

North Shore Benefits By New Road Program

Superintendent of Highways Announces Plans for Construction of 85 Miles of Roads

Eighty-five miles of new concrete road and bridge construction in Cook County for the coming year was announced this week by George A. Quinlan, superintendent of highways. About $3,250,000 will be expended to cover this construction, it is said. The work includes considerable improvement on the north shore.

Three of the new bridges are to be built on Sheridan road in Glencoe. They are the Newhall, Stone and Hawthorne bridges.

Other projects include:
Dundee road, 2.00 miles, $60,000.
Gross Point road, 1.00 miles, $30,000.
Kenilworth avenue, 0.50 miles, $15,000.
Church street, 1.00 miles, $30,000.
East Glenview road, 4.20 miles, $126,000.

It is expected that the $2,000,000 remaining of the $5,000,000 bond issue for good roads will almost cover the cost of constructing the new highways, the county expecting to receive $1,250,000 from the state under the repayment act.

TEN RIDE TICKETS BACK

Almost as quickly as the order went into effect cancelling the sale of ten ride tickets between intermediate points on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, the Public Utilities Commission this week rejected the supplement which cancelled the original tariff, granting a 150 day extension.
