

Campus Players of Northwestern U. Appear at New Trier December 2 and 3

The Campus Players of Northwestern university, a student theatrical organization giving two plays a year, will present George M. Cohan's famous success, "Seven Keys to Baldpate", at the New Trier Auditorium on December 2 and 3.

In producing this clever comedy the Campus Players have secured one of the most able and accomplished casts that has appeared in Northwestern campus dramatics for years. Miss Ivy Mae Smith, a senior in the university, takes the leading part. Miss Smith won considerable distinction for herself last year when she played the leading role in the annual Junior Play. She is a comedienne whose stage ability is far above that of the average amateur.

Miss Natalie Purcell, of Evanston, playing the part of the girl reporter, is beyond question the most talented actress in the university. She has taken the place in Northwestern theatricals left vacant by the graduation of Miss Thelma Fitzwilliam, also of Evanston, whose work in the Campus Players' production, "Within The Law", caused favorable comment from critics throughout Chicago and vicinity. Miss Purcell's type is especially adaptable for her part in "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

The leading man's part is taken by C. Walter Young, president of the senior class this year. Mr. Young has appeared in several previous college plays, and was a member of Northwestern's debating team. His voice is particularly strong and clear, making it possible for him to make the most of his lines in the coming production.

Others in the cast are Miss Marjorie Garvey, Miss Mabel Elliot, Hayward Paddock, William Woodruff, Walter Hartz, Ben Carswell, Dale

Smith, and Wendell Wheeler. Mr. Smith, of Wilmette, besides being business manager of the club has taken a character part in the play. Wendell Wheeler and Hayward Paddock are both of Evanston. The whole cast is one of exceptional ability.

The technical end of the staging of the play is in the hands of Marvin Dixon and an able group of students who are professionally interested in the study of modern stage artistry. The color effects and stage lightning will be aided by the complete equipment at the New Trier auditorium.

The play itself is an acknowledged hit. It is a thriller from start to finish. With the experienced coaching of William Gregory, producer of "Daddy Long Legs", and with the array of talent in the cast, the play will have a deft professional touch that is so often lacking in ordinary college theatricals.

NEW TRIER GIRL GRADS LEADERS IN COLLEGES

More New Trier alumni are bringing credit upon their alma mater in the various colleges and universities. Word was received at the high school this week to the effect that the Misses Gwendolin Mills and Eugenia Moore have "made" the Freshmen hockey team at Beloit.

Miss Vivian Ratcliffe of the class of 1920 at New Trier is doing honor work in Physics and Economics at Mount Holyoke.

Word has been received from Wellesley that Miss Marian Montgomery, '20, has attracted special attention for her theme work in English. She was called into a conference by her teacher and asked where she secured her training. The instructor declared that the themes Miss Montgomery had been handing in were among the best ever written by a freshman at Wellesley.

"BUY XMAS SEALS," DECEMBER'S CALL

Grosse Point Health Center to be Beneficiary of Christmas Seal Sales in Villages of North Shore

CHILDREN AID THE CAUSE

Are Called "Finest Salesmen" by Secretary of Health Center in Special Appeal

The Red Cross Roll Call Fund drive concluded on Thanksgiving Day, and with the following morning the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, and its branch, the Grosse Point Health Center, opened its annual Christmas seal campaign. Christmas seals and Health bonds are now on sale at every drug and department store and among the school children. It is the season set apart for Thanksgiving and giving.

"First we pause to remember blessings and then we show our gratitude by trying to pass them on," says Mrs. D. H. Maxwell, secretary of the Grosse Point Health Center. "Good Health, the greatest of all blessings, we can help pass on by buying Christmas seals. They represent a great public health work, about which our enthusiasm grows as we know it more intimately.

"Grosse Point Health Center, with its splendid visiting nursing service, is a fine example in our own community.

Children Best Salesmen

"The children in the schools have been our finest salesmen. The merchants cannot have understood the full meaning of those penny stamps or the children would have had competitors.

"Let's all understand that here we have an opportunity to help a valuable social work that is being intelligently conducted."

"Seal" Your Letters

Every seal used on letters and Christmas packages is an indication of the sender's endorsement of this work. The funds realized from the sale of Christmas Seals has brought good health and Christmas cheer into thousands of homes.

The Grosse Point Health Center receives the greatest portion of its support from funds collected by the sale of the Christmas seal and Health bonds; the nurse stationed at this center has one-half of her salary paid from this fund in addition to the cost of her supplies and incidental expenses; the Crusade work; the Nutrition classes; and the Tuberculosis clinic are all supported through the sale of seals. The chairmen of local committees, which have been appointed in the northern section of the county are as follows:

Wilmette, Kenilworth and Gross Point, Mrs. John A. Hoffman.

Winnetka, Mrs. Stephen A. Foster. Superintendent Glencoe School.

Glencoe, Mr. Arthur B. Rowell. The seals have been placed on sale in practically all of the public and parochial schools in these villages.

IF YOU BREAK EVEN YOU AREN'T A REAL GAMBLER

St. Louis, Mo.—Gather around closely, gents, and let Prosecuting Attorney Mueller of St. Louis County, give you a definition of gambling. He is replying to a query from Sheriff Willmann as to "what is gambling?"

"Well, Sheriff," says Mueller, "it's about like this: If a man plays a game of chance and gets back more or less than he puts up, he's gambling. If he gets back just what he put up, that's not gambling."

Now let the defense contend that their clients "broke even."

ANOTHER CHAUNCEY

Chauncey M. Depew shocked the American Legion of New York the other day by appearing to ask for his war service medal. He was but a name-sake of the world's greatest after-dinner speaker, however, who was a supply sergeant in the A. E. F.
