Will Arrange For Meetings at Churches, Granges and Civic Bodies to Spread Peace Doctrine

Bishop William F. McDowell, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the General committee on the Limitation of Armament, 1319 F Street, Washington, has appointed the Rev. Stephen A. Lloyd, pastor of the First Congregational church of Wilmette, as a representative of the General committee in this community, and to churches, etc., would involve the expenditure of a prohibitive amount of money. So the committee has urged the personal work of its speakers, in every city, for the local arrangement of these addresses.

"Speakers receive their expenses, only, for these public talks on disarmament," Mr. Lloyd said.

Any organization that would like to have a speaker address it, should communicate at once with Mr. Lloyd. From now on, all requests received at Washington headquarters, will be referred to the committee's representatives in local communities. Every organization which is addressed by a member of the Speakers' bureau, is requested to pass resolutions stating its opinion regarding an "organic and continuing relationship of nations," and future conferences for the peaceful discussion of world problems. These resolutions will be forwarded by the speaker to the General committee's headquarters, 1319 F street, Washington.

TIME NOW TO THINK ABOUT INCOME TAX

Taxpayers Urged to Start Figuring: Uncle Sam Asks Group of Questions to Guide the Schedulers

Taxpayers are advised to lose no time in compiling their accounts for 1921 in preparation for the period for filing income tax returns—January 1 to March 15, 1922—in a statement issued by Collector of Internal Revenue John C. Cannon. The statement further calls attention to the new provision of the Revenue Act of 1921 in that every person whose gross income for 1921 was $5,000 or over must file a return regardless of the amount of the net income upon which the tax is assessed. Returns are also required of all single persons whose net income was $1,000 or over and all married persons whose net income was $2,000 or over, widows, widowers and persons separated or divorced being classed as single persons.

Following are some of the questions to which the government deems answers absolutely necessary in order to determine whether a person has an income sufficiently large to require that a return be filed.

Did you receive any interest on bank deposits?

Did you receive any bonuses during the year?

Have you any minor children who are working?

Have you any income from royalties or patents?

Do you hold any office in a benefit society from which you receive income?

Has your wife any income from any source whatsoever?

make speaking engagements for the public discussion of disarmament, America's position in world relations growing out of the International Conference, and practical means for the preservation of world peace.

The General Committee on the Limitation of Armament is a citizens' body, with Samuel Gompers and Oscar S. Straus as Honorary chairmen; Otto T. Mallery of Philadelphia as treasurer; Herbert S. Houston of New York as chairman of the Ways and Means committee; Mrs. Arthur C. Watkins as recording secretary; William H. Short as executive secretary. This committee was formed for the purpose of upholding the efforts of the American delegates and of focusing the strength of public opinion in behalf of the original spirit, aspirations, and developing purpose of the conference. Its Governing board has passed resolutions favoring the administration's stand in behalf of future conferences and an agreement of nations to consider future problems in international relationships, and—going one step farther—the committee has urged a nation-wide expression of public opinion in favor of an International Economic conference, to be invited by the Government of the United States, following the present Armament conference.

Would Crystallize Opinion

To furnish a public forum for the open discussion of America's stand in these vital international problems, and to crystallize and clarify public opinion so that it may be effective, is the purpose of the Speakers' bureau, of which Mr. Lloyd has become a member. Approximately 1,500 men and women have responded to Bishop McDowell's invitation, and are ready to accept speaking engagements in any state.

"Any organization—civic, commercial, religious, fraternal, etc.—may be provided with a speaker, by notifying a representative of this Speakers' bureau," Mr. Lloyd said today. "The General committee, however, is supported entirely by voluntary contributions, and carried on largely by volunteer service. The arrangement, from headquarters at Washington, of all these addresses before Chambers of Commerce, Granges, Labor Unions,
