

LENTEN SACRIFICES AID FOR NEAR EAST

Ten Sacrifices For Women
Listed by Committee

Ten Lenten sacrifices for women to enable them to feed starving war-orphans in the Bible lands are listed in a letter sent to leaders of the Illinois Women's Federation of Women's clubs, Women's Missionary groups, Ladies Aid societies, social clubs and women's fraternal organizations by the women's department of the Near East Relief. The letter, signed by Mrs. Martin Kent Northam of Evanston, chairman of the women's committee, expresses the hope that 2000 of the war-orphans allotted to the women of Illinois will be kept alive for a year as a result of the self-denials practiced by the women during the forty days of Lent.

The sacrifices suggested are:

1. Refrain from buying a new bonnet for Easter; its price feeds a child three months.
2. Deny yourself the pleasure of afternoon teas during Lent; they need bread.
3. Carry your own market basket; the saving will help Near East Relief carry on.
4. Abstain from purchasing candies; the eating may be limited to candy presented to you by Friend Husband or brother.
5. Resist the temptation to ride in taxis and even street cars on clear days; the walking will help your health and complexion.
6. Avoid extra desserts; the saving will help increase the contributions.
7. Darn the old stockings; the cost of a pair will feed a child for a month.
8. Desist from using perfumes; the aroma of the consciousness of doing good will sweeten your life.
9. Wear your old shoes half-soled; the price of a new pair saves a soul over there.
10. Save an amusement and contribute amount saved to Near East Relief; the contributions given will fill you with joy.

"Lent is a time of self-denial and self-examination and for that reason it has been deemed advisable to suggest ten things that women may do to save money during Lent for the support of the homeless, helpless war-orphans in the Bible lands," reads the letter. "As you know, there are 100,000 of the children being cared for by the Near East Relief, authorized by and responsible to the United States Congress for the work of relief and rehabilitation in Asia Minor.

"These suggestions will help to remind the women of how we may sacrifice from our bounty to provide for the need of the victims of war and massacre over there. One or more of self-denials here suggested will net more than enough to make up the quota if a fair proportion of the women of Illinois respond."

Illinois Headquarters of the Near East Relief are at 19 S. LaSalle street, Chicago.

FIRST CO-OPERATIVE MILK MARKET GOING STRONG IN ILLINOIS

Freeport, Ill.—The first co-operative milk marketing organization to be established in Illinois in 1921 is averaging more than $30,000 business monthly, according to its report preparatory to the first annual meeting in March.

The Stephenson County Co-operative Milk Marketing company was the first of five similar organizations established by the Illinois Agricultural association. It started operation last August and has had success such as to indicate the future success of the co-operative dairy marketing operation.

Other and like marketing companies have been established by the organization at Quincy, St. Louis, Waukegan and Mt. Carroll but only the one at St. Louis has been going long enough to start actual business operations.

The company is the owner of its own $30,000 modern plant in which the county farm bureau has headquarters. Six hundred farmers of the community are members and stockholders in the Stephenson county company.

Averages for the past two months indicate the handling daily in the plant and the marketing of 85,000 pounds of milk. Each day 2,500 pounds of butter and several varieties of cheese are made and marketed by the company's salesmen.

GIRLS' RESERVE CLUB

The Girls' Reserve club at New Trier High school held a meeting last Monday and elected officers. The girls who will lead the organization for the remainder this year are: Florence Wheelock, president; Maragret Williams, vice-president; Catherine Granquist, secretary; Phillis Barry, treasurer.

BUDDING JOURNALISTS AWAIT INITIAL ISSUE

Winnetka's budding journalists, taken from the ranks of her public school children, are looking forward with pardonable exuberance to the first fruits of their labors; a real newspaper conceived in their own minds and produced by their own hands.

The initial issue of the school paper published under direction of the Skokie Finance Corporation, a business organization of pupils in the Horace Mann school, is expected to be off the press in the school workshops sometime Monday afternoon.

The publication—as yet nameless—will contain twelve pages. There are 500 subscribers among the children of the public schools.

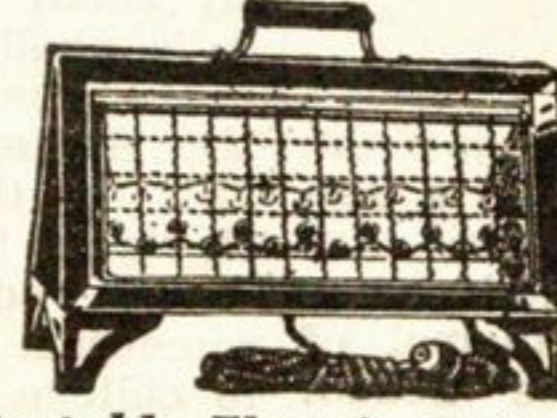

A name for the paper is to be selected by means of a contest, the winner of which will receive a prize comprising ten shares of stock in the Skokie Finance Corporation.
