

USE THE BALLOT, WOMEN ARE TOLD

Mrs. G. C. Lieber Emphasizes Importance of Primaries

Mrs. Gertrude C. Lieber, of Winnetka, candidate for County commissioner on the Republican ticket, spoke at a political mass meeting in Evanston at Monday evening of this week.

Mrs. Lieber, in outlining her campaign, said that there were a few things the women, as newly enfranchised citizens, should stand for in the coming election. These she outlined as follows:

First: The right kind of citizenship. This suggests an intelligent study of the needs and conditions of the county at the present time.

Second: The interested woman voter should see to it, that all women voters should exercise their right of franchise at the coming primaries on April 11.

Under the first of these headings Mr. Lieber spoke briefly on three points:

First: The Forest Preserve and Skokie Preservation. The speaker cited that over 4,000,000 people visited the Preserve of Cook county last year. The majority of these were women and children. Why should not a county board be composed of both men and women who, together could look after the interests of these visitors, being sure that the right kind of men are employed to care for these picnic grounds? The speaker also said that she favored acquisition by the Forest Preserve board of every foot of ground that could be legitimately purchased.

Second: Civil Service. Mrs. Lieber said that for many years she had been interested in Civil Service, as it has been established in all departments of our government, from the federal to the county. She expressed a desire that Civil Service be extended, so that ultimately the "Merit System" would supplant the "Spoils System."

Third: Revenue. The speaker said that in this day of increasing taxation she was anxious to see the people get a proper return for their money, especially as applied to the different institutions of Cook county. This would include the county hospital, the juvenile courts, the Oak Forest Infirmary, the county jail, and the other humanitarian institutions and projects. Mrs. Lieber said she felt that anyone who knew the facts would feel that Cook county should have a new jail.

The business of getting the women voters to the polls, Mrs. Lieber emphasized, meant the dissemination of educational propaganda and a direct setting forth of the importance of the primaries as the only means of securing nominations for political offices.

BURY MRS. MURPHY IN CHILDHOOD HOME

Eliza Olive Murphy, widow of Oliver F. Murphy, died at her home in Winnetka, Thursday morning, March 2, after lying ill for five months. She was the fourth child of Elias and Margaret Newell Murphy, and was born two miles west of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, December 12, 1844. Her father was one of the pioneers, immigrating from Pennsylvania with his parents when Ohio was an almost unbroken woodland.

Mrs. Murphy passed her girlhood at the home farm near Mt. Vernon, attending country school and the Mt. Vernon High school. She was married to her cousin, Oliver F. Murphy, November 3, 1869, and they lived for many years at Mt. Vernon. There were born to them five children, of whom four survive, Gertrude L., Walter F. and Carroll D. of Winnetka, and George S. of De Moines, Iowa. The youngest child, Olive, died when one year old. One brother also survives, L. M. Murphy, of Puyallup, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were life-long members of the First Congregational church of Mt. Vernon until their affiliation with the Congregational of Winnetka.

Several years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy with their daughter, Gertrude, took up their residence with their son, Walter, at 905 Elm street, Winnetka, near their son, Carroll and his family. Here they happily passed the declining years of life, celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on November 2, 1919. Mr. Murphy died March 26, 1920, and was taken back to Mt. Vernon for burial.

After services at the home in Winnetka, Saturday, March 4, the sons accompanied their mother's remains back to Mt. Vernon, where services at the old church were attended by many of the friends and relatives and she was laid to rest beside her husband.
