

LOCAL CHURCH ADDS TO MISSION WORKERS

Congregational Church to Dispatch Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wolsted to Rural India

IDEAL QUALIFICATIONS

Couple Will Sail for Foreign Fields About April 30

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Wolsted have been chosen by vote of the Winnetka Congregational church as its representatives in the Foreign Missionary field and will soon sail to take up their work in India. April 30 has been named as the probable date of their commissioning.

Mr. Wolsted has preached here, they have been in the church on various occasions, met many of its people, and have also been in some of the homes of Winnetka. However, so much interest is manifested in their plans and preparations for this work in that far-away land that it is pleasant to give them a fuller introduction than has thus far been possible.

Mr. Wolsted was born in Harmony, Minnesota; received both his grade and high school training there, then attended the North Dakota Agricultural college, graduating with a B. S. degree in 1916; the same year he entered the Chicago Theological seminary and after three years' study was given an A. M. degree by the University of Chicago, of which the seminary is one of the schools. A year later he took a B. D. degree at the same institution. In addition to this training, he has to his credit some months of special work in the University of Montpellier, in France.

Ideal Qualifications

Ten years his summers were spent on farms. He taught district schools three years. Two summers he was actively engaged in raising funds for a $70,000 college Y. M. C. A. building—being manager of the campaign the latter part of that period. Social secretary of an army Y. M. C. A. at Camp Dodge, Iowa, seventeen months of army service in the Eighty-Eighth Division—eleven and a half months of it in France; musical and athletic interests during both his college and High School courses—the former including slide trombone in a band, and college glee club; the latter, tennis, basketball, baseball and football; athletic coach in rural Y. M. C. A.; all these indicate possibilities for an ideal equipment, and those familiar with Mr. Wolsted's apprehension of these advantages testify to the use he has made of them, as well as to his natural endowments, for the purposes of work to which he is consecrating his life with an inspiring zeal and devotion.

Sturdy Rural Background

A North Dakota farm was the scene of Mrs. Wolsted's girlhood. There she had her grammar school education and most of her high school training. After teaching one term in a rural school near her home, she entered the North Dakota Agricultural College—Home Economics

Course—and took a B. S. degree in 1916. Beside her regular collegiate work, she took part in a number of activities, such as Y. W. C. A., Student Council, Student Government committee of the girls' dormitory, Literary Society, Fraternity, etc. Varied teaching periods—each change making for betterment in experience, responsibility and other essentials—demonstrated her aptitude, and her fitness for partnership in their present plan. She taught in the grades, from the seventh up; was principal of a small school; later of a high school in Cooperstown, North Dakota, where she taught Home Economics in connection with the principalship.

Go to Rural India

Such equipment—particularly Mr. Wolsted's agricultural training both theoretical and practical—coupled with the enthusiasm and zeal which is a marked feature of all their outlook, will make Mr. and Mrs. Wolsted a wonderful asset in the field of their future endeavors—rural India. They expect to visit their homes in Minnesota and North Dakota about a month; to return to Chicago for Mr. Wolsted's Seminary Commencement, June 4-6; to attend a missionary conference in Boston, June 8-15; then to be ready to sail.

The church feels that it has been most fortunate in finding for its missionary operations Mr. and Mrs. Wolsted and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds—two young couples of rare qualities, energy, unselfishness, vision, spirituality, and a real hunger to be of fullest service.

Assured Effective Support

It is interesting to note that the adoption of Mr. and Mrs. Wolsted comes without material addition to the financial Budget of the church, as announced in the Every-Member Canvass of December, 1921. Under the regular apportionment to Benevolent work for 1922, covered in the budget, $2,880 goes to the Foreign Mission field. The adoption then, of Mr. and Mrs. Wolsted, just as in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, merely transfers the present gifts of the church from the general fund to the specific support of these two couples. The two salaries together do not quite equal the amount which the church has already pledged.

The church does stand ready to watch over their necessities in the same way that it would care for any member of its staff, and has been able to do for Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds a number of things which their stated salaries would not provide.

The church expresses a desire to in every way material and spiritual stand back of these missionaries with heartiest support.
