Plans for the coming Hi-Y Conference at Evanston March 25 and 26 are now complete. E. C. Wolcott, of Sioux City, Iowa, who made such an impression at the conference at Decatur, is on the program for the Evanston meetings.

Another of the many speakers is Dr. C. W. Gilkey, who is well known here. Edwin Thelms of Evanston will act as song leader. Registrations for the conference are due on Monday, March 20.

"ARMENIAN FUND" GROWS

The fund for the relief of destitute Armenians, which has been sponsored by the Girls' Reserve club at New Trier High school, has made some rapid gains during the last week. The fund now totals more than seventy dollars. The contributions are made up chiefly of pennies received in change at the cashier's counter and candy-stand in the lunch room of the school.

"DAYS OF REAL SPORT"

Every thing dear to the heart of the boy in the line of baseball supplies and other sporting goods and paraphernalia, is to be found right now at the Wilmette Pharmacy, Wilmette and Central avenues. NEW TRIER DRAMATISTS PLAN FINE PROGRAM

Four one-act plays are to be given Saturday March 25, by the Dramatic club of New Trier Township High school, according to an announcement this week by director Stanwood.

Almost without exception the members of the casts of three of the plays are new to high school dramatics. They are entering into the work with enthusiasm and interest, and intend to measure up to the high standard of acting set by the achievements of previous years.

"Helena's Husband" by Philip Moeller, is a humorously satirical treatment of Helen of Troy, Menelaus, and Paris. This play demands a Greek interior. "The Turtle Dove," a Chinese play, presented in the Chinese manner, calls for picturesque costumes and quaint effects. "Overtones" is distinctively novel in theme. "Two Slatterns and a King," by Edna St. Vincent Millay, is an interlude to be played in front of the curtain.
