Own Your Home

By John R. Magill
 President, Chicago Real Estate Board
 From
 CHICAGO REALTOR

THE ownership of a Home brings to a couple one of the greatest and finest thrills of life. Probably no other event in married life, excepting perhaps the arrival of the first little one, takes on the importance and gives the unbounded happiness and joy of the day you move into Your Own Home. The feeling of pride and satisfaction resulting from the ownership of a Home is unequalled in any other phase of domestic life.

There are other reasons, and good ones, for Home Ownership. It is unquestionably the best savings bank in the world, for people will deny themselves many luxuries voluntarily in order to put the money into improvements around the Home or to make extra payments on the purchase price, whereas when a couple is living in rented premises, the incentive to save is lacking and the money goes, with nothing to show for it at the end of the year or years.

We are all growing older, day by day, and our earning capacity will not always be as great as at present. Sickness may come, to prevent constant employment or attention to business. Then will the family wish they had acted years ago and purchased or built a home, which would have been paid for with surprising ease in those earlier days of married life, and now furnish a secure and comfortable haven in all the storms of the later years which are sure to come. The wonderful sense of security and comfort which comes at such a time is the second greatest thrill of Home Ownership.

Money invested in a Home is seldom sacrificed even to a small extent, and in those exceptional cases where a small loss must be taken because of selling in a hurry owing to removal to some other city and similar causes, the amount lost is only a small fraction of that which has been saved solely on account of Home Ownership, and would otherwise have been spent long ago. There are many, many more instances of money made in the sale of Homes than of losses.

We have some good bargains in Homes and Vacant. If you buy from us, we will help you finance the purchase of a home, already built, or will help you finance the building of a home on a site of your own choosing.
