The Child-Welfare Magazine Features Olive Beaupre Miller

THE May issue of The Child-Welfare Magazine, the official organ of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association, contains an address on "Right Reading for Children" by Olive Beaupre Miller, in private life Mrs. Harry E. Miller. It is an interesting article on the importance of giving children the right kind of reading at the right time, not from the standpoint of a professor, a librarian or a literary critic, but simply as one mother to other mothers.

Mrs. Miller is a Winnetkan, residing at 670 Walden road, and has spent the last four years editing "My Book House," a collection of stories and poems for little children. It is evident that The Child-Welfare Magazine is trying to give as much publicity to this article as they can because in their suggestions for program material for Parent-Teacher Associations, Mothers Clubs and Study Circles, they are asking that this address by Mrs. Miller be read.

Three Winnetka women are leaving town early next week to attend the annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs which will convene at the Capitol building, in Springfield, on May 24, 25 and 26. Mrs. Edwin E. Brown will go as a delegate from the Winnetka Woman's club; Mrs. A. E. Tilroe, as a delegate from the North Shore Catholic Woman's League, of which she is president, and Mrs. Maurice H. Lieber, will attend as a member of the State Board, being chairman of the Department of Applied Education.

Music lovers will be interested in the piano recital to be given by the artist pupils of John Borino at the Winnetka Woman's club on Saturday evening of this week. Participants in the program will include Allen Rosenthal, Edith Pressburger, James Irvine, Nicasio Borino, Agnes Ericson, Richard Burke, Mildred Flynn, Emily Eckart, Stanley Nelson, Evelyn Fenichel, Dorothea Myers, Mary Anarino, Rose Rocca, Elvera Jensen, Marion Flynn, Julia Bolak, D. Kane, Clothilde Rosenthal, Freda Rosenthal, Adele Cutrera and John Borino.

A program containing among others interesting numbers the Mendelssohn G. Minor Concerto and the Beethoven Sonata Pathetique for piano, and many violin numbers heard on the Kreisler program, was given by two children Friday evening, May 5, at the Winnetka Woman's club. Helen Ley, an unusually talented little girl, and Henry Corbet, who contains much promise as a coming violinist. These children were presented by their teachers, Marguerite Fitzgerald and Winifred Townsend.

Several dinner parties have been planned for Friday, June second, preceding the entertainment for the benefit of Christ Church Choir Camp. Six of the boxes have been sold and much interest is being manifested in the entertainment, the details of which have not yet been made public. Mrs. A. W.
