Bibliophiles

James L. Ford's 'Forty Odd Years in the Literary Shop,' which the Duttons published a few months ago, has brought to its author a most interesting mass of letters of appreciation. Innumerable actors, actresses and managers have written to him to say what pleasant reminders of their early years they have found in his pages; one of the most distinguished of American historians has sent a letter to say that he has found these chronicles of the lighter phases of metropolitan life well worth reading; a bishop and a half a dozen clergymen have assured him of the interest with which they have read the book; editors and dramatic critics have borne testimony to the truth of his pictures of Park Row; women of social distinction have expressed their interest in his accounts of life on Coney Island, the East Side, and in the haunts of criminals.

Skokie Country Club will hold its formal opening on Decoration Day, with a dinner dance for members and their guests in the evening. In the morning, the Class A. B. C. D. Medal Play will take place, and in the afternoon, there will be a Mixed Four Ball Foursome Event.

Some One Has To Pay for inefficiency in any organization. Inefficiency is charged up to overhead or operating costs or something else, but it has to be included in the cost of the article or the service—and the consumer pays!

One reason our charges are lower is that our business is conducted with unusual efficiency—with a degree of efficiency that makes not only indirectly for lower rates, but directly for better service!
