

WINNETKA WOMAN AT TABLET UNVEILING

Mrs. John Orson Barber, of Chicago Chapter D. A. R.,
Takes Part in Ceremony

HONOR "REAL" D. A. R.

Impressive Ceremonies Honor Mrs. Julia W. Brass

The committee on historical places, monuments and relics, Chicago Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of which Mrs. John Orson Barber is chairman, accompanied by Mrs. Charles E. Herrick, regent; Mrs. W. A. Meyer, vice-regent, and other members of the chapter, went to Crown Point, Ind., last week, Wednesday, in automobiles.

After an excellent dinner at the Commercial Hotel, and, incidentally, the last dinner to be given in this eighty-one year old structure, which is being replaced by a large modern hotel, the party rode to the cemetery and unveiled the official D. A. R. bronze marker for "real daughters" (which had been placed on the monument of Mrs. Julia Watkins Brass, the seventh child of the second marriage of Oliver Watkins, a soldier of the Revolutionary war. Mrs. Brass was a member of the Chicago Chapter. Dr. L. A. Salisbury, her grandson, and many of her old-time friends, in Crown Point, were present.

The ceremony, in charge of Mrs. Barber, was beautiful and impressive. There were appropriate songs by Mrs. Ethel Cornell, which followed the Pledge to the Flag. Mrs. Frederick Knapp read an original poem written for the occasion. Mrs. May Brevoort Perkins, Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Rena Hopkins Tuthill, whose great-grandfather, Stephens Hopkins, was a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and Mrs. Barber read portions of the romantic history of Mrs. Brass. Mrs. Barber read an original poem and at the proper moment, during its reading, Dr. Salisbury, the grandson, drew aside the American Flag. The Regent, Mrs. Herrick, led in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

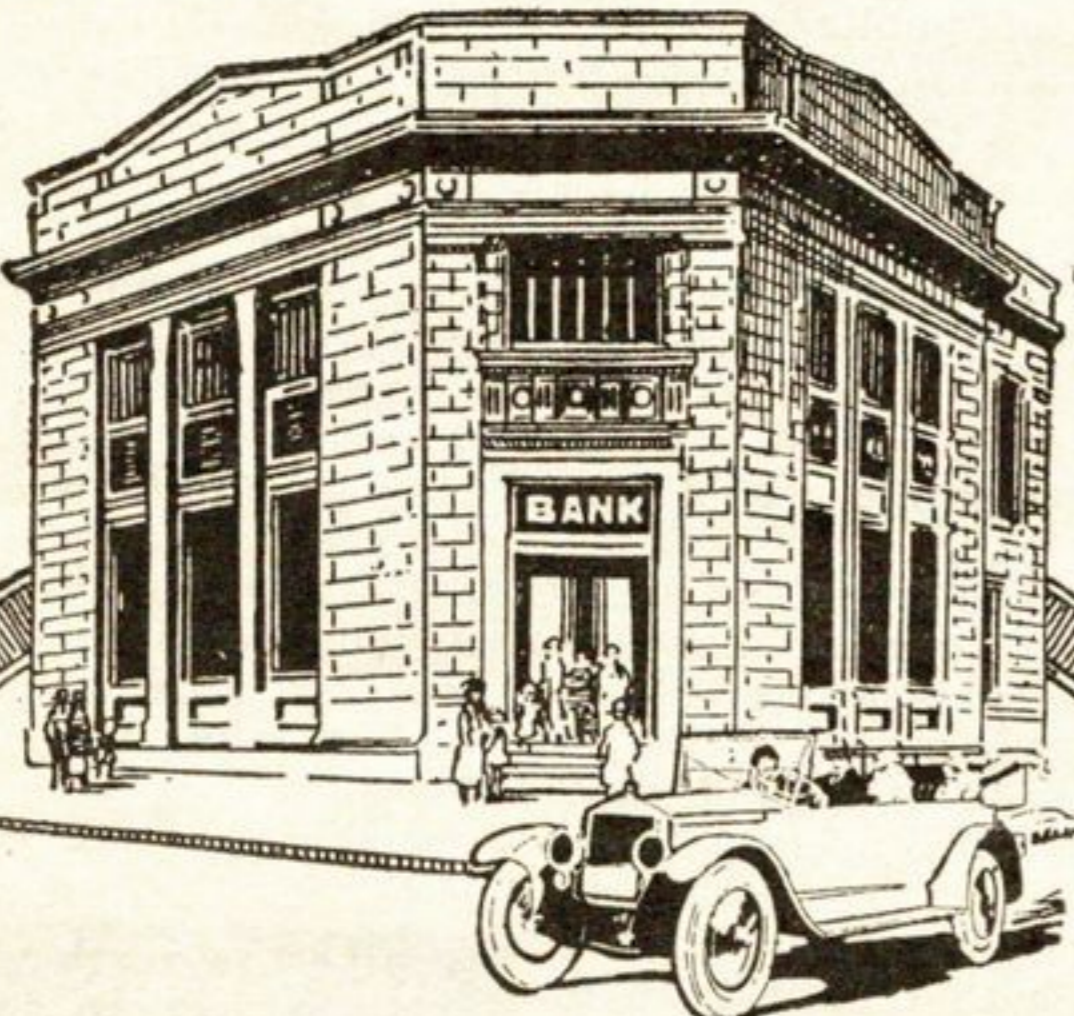

Those Kitchen Utensils Still Await the Owners

As faithfully recorded in last week's issue of the Winnetka Talk, there are numerous household utensils, etc., deposited in the kitchens of Community House, left in the wake of equally numerous dinners, etc. The articles must be called for within three weeks or wholesale disposition will be made at the instance of Community House authorities. The list includes:

Four aprons, 4 napkins, 2 lunch cloths, 1 silk neck scarf, 2 white bowls, 1 aluminum colander, 1 bread tin, 1 enamel spoon, 12 fire tins, 4 cake baskets, 2 rolling pins, 2 round baking pans.

Telephone 844 "AT ECKART'S" WHAT IS PAINT?

It is a pigment chemically approved for the purpose of coloring or coating a surface elaborate or plain.

The Liquid with which the pigment is ground or mixed in, must be of such quality to hold it to the surface and must be the proper kind to obtain durability.

The paint we are selling for almost eight years has proved that it is the right kind for Exterior as well as for Interior surface.
