

NEWEST LEXINGTON WINS CAR BUYERS

"The new Series 22 Lexington at $1745 has taken the country by storm!" said W. L. Hays, north shore distributor for the Minute Man Six, in an interview this week.

"And judging by local conditions I can readily credit the reports reaching me from the factory," he continued.

"Since April twenty-third, the date of the first published announcement of the new Series 22, my salesroom has been crowded with prospects. It looks like the halcyon days of 1919!

"Our big plants at Conners, Ill., are working to their utmost capacity to fill orders that continue to pile up in an ever increasing flood. In my humble opinion, no car has ever been accorded a wider and more instantaneous public acceptance than this new Lexington.

"Without exception, the people to whom I have demonstrated the new Series 22 Lexington have been enthusiastic in their comments regarding the exceptional performance and riding ease.

"It is the factory's unqualified claim that it rides easier than any car that does not weigh more, cost more, or have a longer wheelbase."

"I stand ready and willing to justify this broad claim at any time.

"Ever since Labor Day, 1920, when two Lexington specials, powered with strictly stock Ansted engines, swept to a double victory in the Pike's Peak hill-climbing race, this 'miracle motor' has been breaking performance records from coast to coast."

"B. L. T.'S" HOME SOLD TO A CHICAGO BANKER

Hill and Wheeler, north shore realtors, have just consummated the sale of the B. L. Taylor residence at Glencoe, the home of the late author of "B. L. T.'s Line O' Type column" in the Chicago Tribune, to Gerhardt Foreman, vice-president of the Foreman Brothers Banking company.

The house is rented for the summer to Jacob Nusbaum. Mr. Foreman is taking the property subject to the lease and will occupy it after October 1.

The property is located at the southwest corner of Dell place and Lakeside terrace. This transfer is another incident showing that higher priced properties on the north shore are continually in demand. Hill and Wheeler represented all parties to the transaction.
