Does It Get Attention?

MANY critics of printed advertising say, "It goes to the waste basket." But this is no reason for finding fault—a great deal of such printing SHOULD go to the waste basket—after it has implanted its message!

But advertising of this character has no purpose for existence unless it ATTRACTS ATTENTION, and here enters the printer's responsibility.

The Lake Shore Publishing Company measures every order it produces by the yard-stick of "Is it attractive, proportionate to the purpose for which it is to be used?"

That is why customers of ours speak so highly of what we print—whether it be folders, booklets, stationery, or something as ordinary as shipping tags.
