HAVE CHILDREN'S DAY

Saturday Afternoon Devoted to Fun for Kiddies

Torrents of rain Monday and Tuesday discouraged all thought of going to the Carnival. But, when the sun came out in all its glory Wednesday morning all the kiddies in town, and most of the grown-ups, displayed an uncommon restlessness. Then, on Wednesday evening, the rush began, to continue unabated until the "final curtain" Saturday night.

The Wilmette Post of the American Legion, sponsor of the Carnival at Twelfth street, Washington and Lake avenues, omitted nothing to make this, the fourth autumn entertainment of the Post, a thoroughly enjoyable festival for the citizens of the village. The M. Reese Carnival company was brought to the village with its generous outlay of fun-producing attractions and the fact that the event was for a good cause, brought the residents out in great numbers. Funds from the Carnival are to be devoted to the care of disabled World war veterans, and a portion to the fund for a memorial building in Wilmette.

A special program of events was planned for Saturday afternoon when the children will have the complete run of the Carnival grounds. Members of the Wilmette Legion auxiliary have arranged to care for the children and "show them a real time."

The outstanding feature of Carnival Week is the closing event Saturday night when the Legion plans to give away a real automobile as the big souvenir of the festival.

LIBRARY PLAZA HAS BIG OPENING

First Unit In Large Group of Buildings

Library Plaza hotel, Library square, formally opens Saturday and a general invitation is issued by Victor C. Carlson, builder and owner, to visit the suites, cafeteria dining room, solarium and sky garden. A musical program is arranged and an orchestra will play in the lobby from five until closing.

The opening of the $600,000 Library Plaza hotel marks an important step in the three and a half million dollar development of Library square. In addition to the new hotel, there is proposed a million and half hotel to be erected within a year on the northwest corner of Church street and Orrington avenue, the recently completed Studio building at Library Square and Sherman avenue, the Music School annex and the Antique English shop building adjoining the annex on Church street, are all developments of Mr. Carlson's plans.

About 2,000 persons visited the Library Plaza at the informal opening and a larger number are expected by Mrs. Mae Batcheler, manager, and her staff at the formal opening Saturday.

Mrs. Batcheler and her assistants will show the suites and the elaborate means of maintaining cleanliness, the many thoughtful touches carefully placed for feminine comfort like the plug for a curling iron and the wall safe for jewels and valuables.

The solarium with its Cheney phonograph and wireless receiver and big fire place will interest the men who wish an evening smoke in a quiet home atmosphere and the ladies will appreciate its possibilities for afternoon bridge and teas.

The sky garden places the visitor far above the city and opens a view of the lake and vicinity for miles. Evanston stretches with her trees north and south and across the lake is seen a freighter plodding her way north or returning laden with ore.
