The German Kaiser's Own Story

The long-awaited autobiography of Germany's deposed emporer will be published in The Chicago Daily News, beginning Tuesday, September 26, continuing in daily installments until completed.

The story is well told, and will command the attention of readers everywhere. Many of the author's opinions and statements are fantastic from the American point of view, but interest in the narrative is increased, rather than lessoned, by this fact. Old controversies are sure to be revived, old discussions renewed, by the former kaiser's defense of Germany and his attacks on the leaders of other nations. For instance, he takes seriously the old absurd canard about a secret treaty against Germany and Austria, in 1897, by the United States, Great Britain and France. This is only one of his declarations that will amaze—and amuse—the American reader.

Beginning with a chapter on Bismarck, the ex-emperor traces history through four decades. In a general way the story is chronological, although in the opening chapters the writer often diverges into events long past, or into the remote future. But from the time he reaches the period immediately preceding the world war the story moves in rapid action and is in many respects informative, notwithstanding the author's prejudice, eccentricity, and, in many instances, his surprising misinformation.

It is a story of absorbing interest to the reader of history and of current events alike, and is bound to create a world of discussion. It deals not only with the direct events of the war, but covers a mass of most important collateral matter intimately or remotely related to the war.

Here are some of the significant "high spots" in a topical analysis of the story:

Why Bismarck Went Out
Diplomacy With England
Tangier Visit and Moroccan Crisis
Germany's Denial of War Aims
Propaganda Before War
Germans and Art Treasures
"The Wrong of Versailles"
Secret Talks with the Czar
Visit to Victoria's Deathbed
King Edward's "Encirclement"
Failure of German Diplomacy
Attitude of Sir Edward Gray

Emperor Karl of Austria
Swapping Zanzibar for Heligoland
Chamberlain Offer of Alliance
Russians as Asiatics
Germany's Naval Plans
Charges of Atrocities
Wilson and the 14 Points
Germany When Defeat came
Fatherland and World's Opinion
The Flight to Holland
Why Kaiser Avoided Suicide
Germany of the Future

Publication of this remarkable autobiography began this week in The Chicago Daily News—the first installment on Tuesday, September 26. Newsdealers throughout the northwest have increased their usual supply of the paper, and can give new readers either back numbers beginning with Tuesday, or an advance "reprint" of all the chapters printed in the paper from Tuesday, September 26, to Saturday, September 30, thus insuring to every new reader "The German Kaiser's Own Story" from the beginning.

Readers who find it more convenient to get the paper by mail may send $1.00 to The Chicago Daily News, 15 North Wells street, Chicago, and get it, postage paid, daily for two months.
