

SINCLAIR LEWIS AT SUNDAY CLUB, OCT. 15

Author of "Main Street" Here as Speaker

Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street," "Free Air," "Our Mr. Wrenn," and "Babbitt," comes to the north shore this Sunday as speaker before the Wilmette Sunday Evening club at the First Congregational church.

Mr. Lewis, just recently returned from a year's sojourn in Europe, has selected the very timely subject, "The Main Street in Europe," for Sunday evening's address.

The sensational reception of "Main Street," "Babbitt" and other of Mr. Lewis' books by the American reading public, has brought him into the limelight as one of the outstanding men of letters of the present generation.

Leading Literary Figure
Abroad as at home, Mr. Lewis is increasingly being recognized as a literary figure of dignity and importance. His book "Main Street," is being translated into the German, Dutch and Swedish and in France a number of magazine articles have been devoted to it. Aside entirely from his literary aspect, Mr. Lewis has, with unusual wideness and especially unusual keenness of interest, wandered and inspected the "curious ways of man."

Referring to Mr. Lewis' ability as a speaker, the Chicago Tribune says, "God spoiled the best monologist in the world by giving Lewis brains enough to be a good author."

Miss Mary Welch will be soloist at the Sunday Evening club this week.

Girl Scouts

By V. RAE

Girl Scouts in uniform appeared on the screen and in person last Friday evening at New Trier High school. The program opened with a drill by twenty-four girls and color guard in uniform. As the two lines of khaki stopped at either side of the stage, six of the smaller Scouts in middies and skirts entered and gracefully demonstrated a wand drill. Then all Scouts came to the front of the stage, gave the Norwegian yell and were dismissed. Miss Ethel Flentye very kindly presided at the piano during this part of the performance.

Miss Florence Neill, Director of the Girl Scouts of Chicago and Cook County, was in command of the public investiture, when Betty Vosburgh, Charlotte Shreffler, Betty Funke and Jean Hosmer, having passed their Tenderfoot tests in Wilmette Troop I, received their Scout pins. Six girls, Anna Margaret Stansell, Ruth Miller, Dorothy Boyington, Lydia Weber, Helen Hayes and Dorthy Niles, Second Lieutenant of the Troop, received their second class badges.

Receive Merit Badges

The Scouts are very proud of their members who received merit badges at this investiture. Violet Hawkinson received the Laundress Badge; Rose Krupnick the Scribe; Dorothy Niles the Economist, Laundress and Needlewoman; Edwina Vosburgh, Health Winner; Eleanor Clute, Health Winner; Wilma Northrup, Needlewoman; Gladys White, Cook and Scribe; and Fae Christiansen, Cook, Homemaker, Handywoman, Economist, Swimmer, Musician and Laundress.

The Pageant of the Laws proved to be very effective around the glow of the camp fire with torches of the "laws" held high. The Spirit of Scouting was interpreted by Fae Christiansen, Honor by Helen Hayes, Loyalty by Catherine Hall, Usefulness by Elizabeth Nelson, Friendliness by Jane Nystrom, Courtesy by Patricia Hoffman, Kindness by Violet Hawkinson.

CARR EARNS BIG PROFIT

County Treasurer Produces Largest Interest Yield in History

P. J. Carr

If you had a contract with an employee, who during its existence, not only produced exceedingly profitable business for you but who otherwise indicated that he was unusually capable and efficient we believe that you would renew the contract with him.

P. J. Carr has been County Treasurer since April, 1921, and in one fiscal year he returned to the public account $654,419.90 or about $100,000.00 more than was produced by any predecessor.

"Carr sets new record—interest total is largest in history," was the comment of the Chicago Daily News at the time.

To expedite the business of paying taxes Mr. Carr has established 100 sub-stations throughout the City and County and he proposes to extend this system so that tax bills may be paid in drug stores and other places that now handle gas and electric light bills.

Mr. Carr has also installed a department for real estate men, a foreign language section and a bureau of experts who without charge, give advice on how to avoid difficulties with tax-sharks. Other innovations established by Mr. Carr demonstrate commendable alertness in the people's interest and the fact that he demands of his employees the same courtesy and efficiency that the merchant requires in his business is further proof that he is a valuable administrator.

Mr. Carr's contract expires soon. Will you renew it at the election NOVEMBER 7?
