

PHOTODRAMAS

AT NEIGHBORING THEATRES

The fall and winter season of master photodramatic productions is now in full swing at the big Neighborhood theaters, Hoyburn, Howard, Adelphi.

Good motion picture productions, like good plays, never grow thread bare or pall on the higher type of motion picture followers. The fact that a play can be shown in the neighborhood theater only after it has been viewed by Loop throngs, need not affect adversely that production when it is brought out from within the confines of Chicago's downtown. The wise movie patron steers shy of the jostling crowds of the loop and waits patiently, though it be several weeks, for the showing in the theater near his home, where he can observe it with absolute comfort.

HOYBURN THEATRE

"The Eternal flame," heralded as Norma Talmadge's ultra-masterpiece and said to be even greater than "Smilin' Through" comes to the Hoyburn, Evanston, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 30 and 31, November 1 and 2. Supporting Miss Talmadge in this super-film are such screen favorites as Conway Tearle, Irving Cummings, Otis Harlan, Rosemary Theby, Adolphe Jean Menjou, Wedgewood Nowell and Kate Lester.

Marjorie Daw appears at the Hoyburn Friday, November 3 in her latest success, "Fifty Candles."

"The Trap," featuring Lou Chaney, the attraction for Saturday November 4. In addition there will be the serial "Days of Buffalo Bill."

HOWARD THEATRE

Plays of unquestioned interest and worth continue in the bill at the Howard. Not an "off day" at this beautiful theater in Chicago's newest wonder neighborhood. Not a dull or

WOMAN CANDIDATE HAS FINE QUALIFICATIONS

Mrs. Elizabeth Shroyer of Congress Park, Illinois, is the democratic nominee for County Commissioner from the Country Towns of Cook county.

Born in Virginia, she has taught for seven years in the schools of Minnesota. She is prominent in woman's club work, being director of the South District of Illinois Women's Federated clubs. She is deeply interested in every activity that moves toward better girlhood and womanhood. She is a charter member of the Chicago and Cook county Council of Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Shroyer has worked for the better correlation of home and school, having served as president of a local Parent-Teacher association. She is also chairman of the Women's Council of Defense in her own community.

The Board of County Commissioners needs in its membership able women citizens like Mrs. Shroyer.

Hoyburn Has Hallowe'en Party For The Kiddies

The kiddies are in line for another big treat this week when they make the journey to the Hoyburn theatre, Davis street, Evanston, Saturday for the special morning show for children, featuring "Huckleberry Finn."

The picture program, however, is only the half of it. Every youngster knows that the Hallowe'en spirits are in the air and Manager Sturdivant of the Hoyburn knows it too, and has prepared a real surprise for his youthful patrons the this Saturday morning. Children's show programs are at 9, 10:30 and 12 o'clock.

"second-string" program permitted, but every day a feature day of motion picture production.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 29, 30 and 31, brings the talented Mae Murray to the Howard in her latest genuine success—"Broadway Rose." Miss Murray dances through this film in most captivating fashion and affords a thrill every minute with her entrancing mannerisms.

"The Hands of Nara," is the attraction at the Howard for November 1 and 2. Friday and Saturday finds "Skin Deep" and "The Blacksmith" in the feature positions.

"Pink Gods" and "The Eternal Flame" are on their way to the Howard for the following week.
