

ACT TO STAMP OUT BOGUS SOLICITORS

New Trier Commercial Association Takes Steps to Regulate Charity Giving

CHECK ENTERPRISES

Solicitors Must Have Identification Cards

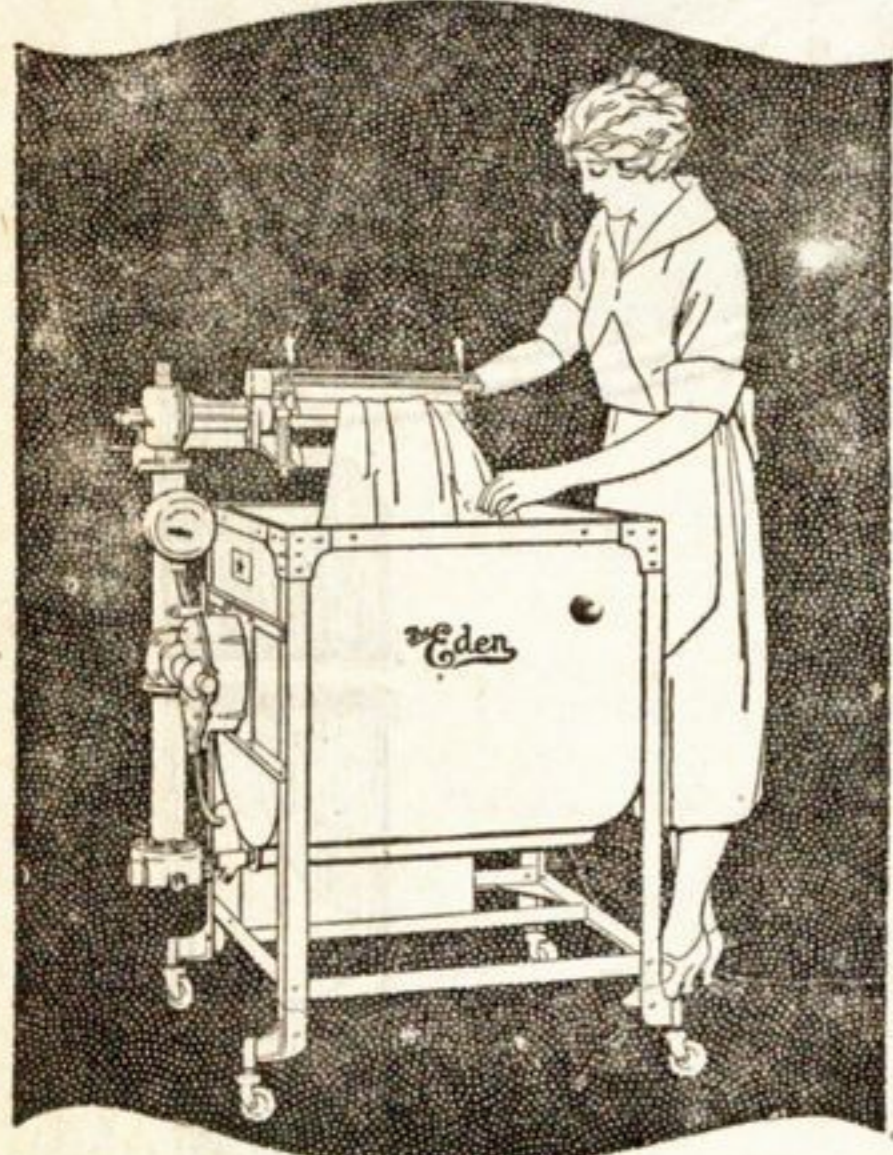

Solicitors for charity, magazine subscriptions, and specialty advertising such as pamphlets, booklets and other similar mediums which do not come under the category of recognized local advertising mediums, must be provided with identification and endorsement by the New Trier Commercial association if they would "do business" with local merchants, according to a plan worked out this week by the New Trier Commercial association.

Adopt Resolutions

Members of the association adopted resolutions Monday at a regular meeting at Wilmette in which it was stipulated that every solicitor for charity or other worthy cause, magazine subscriptions and advertising for special and temporary mediums, who call at business places and homes in the township, will be asked to furnish identification cards endorsed by the Commercial association. Possession of an identification card will be equivalent to a complete endorsement of the honesty and integrity of the solicitor, but cards are to be obtained only after the association has carefully investigated the record of the solicitor and the enterprise he represents. The association has secured a list of all worthy charities, furnished by the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, and is in a position to make thorough and exhaustive investigations into the character of any enterprise coming to its attention.

Check Bogus Solicitor

The action of the Commercial association follows what has been termed as a "flood of solicitation" in recent weeks and months for aid for all kinds of charitable enterprises. The action represents an endeavor on the part of the merchants to protect themselves and the residents of the township against bogus solicitors. Recognized charities and bona fide business and advertising projects will receive the hearty endorsement of the association, it is emphasized.

The Eden

The Electric Washerwoman

The EDEN is the quickest of all household labor-saving devices. It is dependable and reliable; washes thoroughly, quickly and cleaner than any other method, with a minimum amount of energy on your part.

Two simple levers control the operations of EDEN washing and wringing. The EDEN is economical to operate; simple and safe. All working parts enclosed. Self lubricating; no oiling or adjusting necessary.

The EDEN has many exclusive features, including the famous Sediment Zone which insures clean washing water always.

We also have the THOR, BUTERFLY and EASY WASHING MACHINES, SIMPLEX, and THOR IRONERS, EUREKA and HOOVER VACUUM CLEANERS
