

Book Reviews

By John Philip Morris

Could anything more perfect be written than a new story of Grizel by Sir James Barrie's little sister?

Not the Grizel who was the daughter of the Painted Lady and had the name of that to fight against but Grizel with a mother who was so respectable that it was beautiful and so could have a daughter who could be defiant of the world. A Grizel with, moreover, an Irish father to endow her with red hair and to combine the Celtish sharpness of wit with the wisdom of Scotia. Still and indubitably Grizel even though the Little Sister calls her Ellen Melville.

Every sentence she utters comes from the mouth of the girl who Barrie created in the spirit and Maud Adams in flesh. All through the book each utterance sings to our senses with the nuances of Grizel and Babbie and Peter Pan. In fact for all time they will form for me a triple twist.

ORIENTAL RUGS for CHRISTMAS

What gift could bring more pleasure and service than an Oriental Rug?

A large Oriental Rug for the library, for instance, would make a princely gift indeed. One can easily imagine how the quiet, simple furnishings of such a room as the one pictured, and the vari-colored bindings of the books would be united into a luxuriously rich and harmonious whole by the addition of just the right rug.

Here at this establishment you will find the largest and most comprehensive collection of Oriental Rugs in Chicago—from small scatter Rugs to the largest room sizes. The prices are very moderate, and are plainly marked on all Rugs.

Beautiful small Oriental Rugs may be had at $25 and up, while cushion tops of Oriental saddle bags are available for much less.

We make the unequivocal statement that better values cannot be found anywhere in America.

Cold Weather answered the question "Which is THE oil burner?"

All oil burners are good in July. It takes the first cold days to tell the story—how far theory and claims square with practice.

It's natural that during last spring and summer many new, automatic oil-burning devices came on the market. The field is immense; Nokol has proved that oil heating for homes is practical. The invitation to market an oil-burning device is a broad one.

You can now determine just what progress has been made by oil burners other than Nokol. Of course you know about Nokol; when the first cold weather came on, more than 8225 Nokol-heated homes were automatically heated to comfort, and will be until warm weather. For the past five years, Nokol heated homes have had a heating service as trouble-free and dependable as their electric lighting.

This is the big certainty on which every prospective owner of an oil burner can rely.

The test of performance in actual installations is the best single test. Make it. Find out, before you buy your oil heater, how it performs in the homes of your neighbors. Then you can't go wrong.

Nokol burns oil in your present heating plant and does away forever with the uncertainty, dirt and drudgery of coal heating. Nokol can be installed in any type of home heating plant—steam, hot water, vapor or hot air—without alterations. Nokol operates automatically—the temperature is perfectly controlled by a thermostat.
