

EXPLANATIONS

G. O. Wilcox is seen here trying to make explanations to the King and Queen of Gazook. Mr. Wilcox appears in two roles in "The Jollies of 1923."

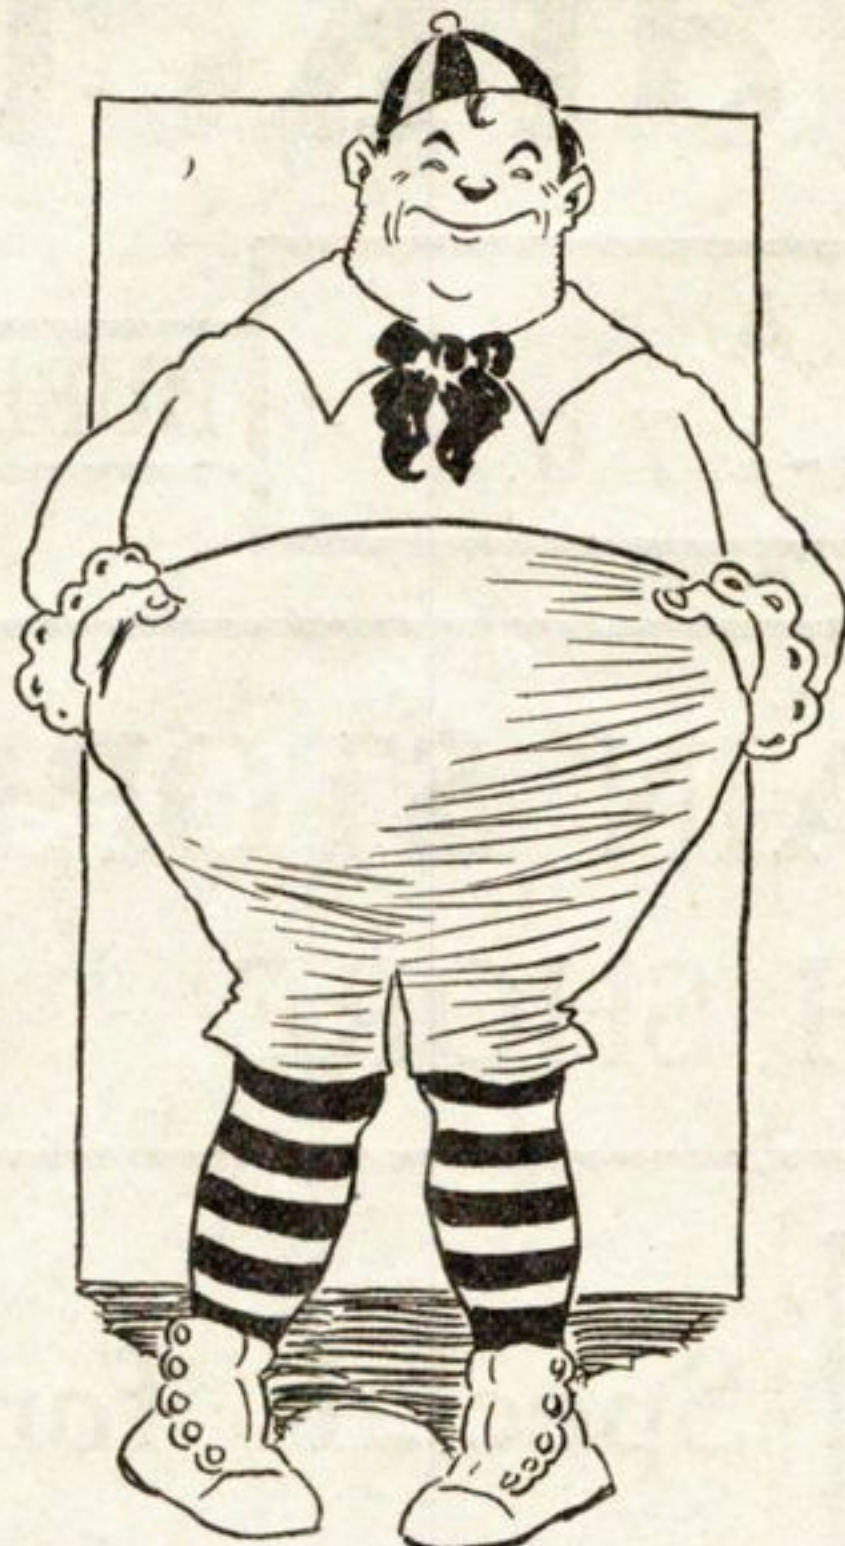

Tickets are selling fast and Joe Bren, the director, is overjoyed over the prospects of the forthcoming "Jollies of 1923," to be given at the New Trier High School auditorium, Monday and Tuesday evenings, January 29 and 30, under auspices of the Indian Hill Improvement association.

Scores of Indian Hill residents will be in the cast of the mammoth Minstrel-Musical Comedy Revue and many "side-splitting" costumes will be seen adorning otherwise quite staid and reserved citizens.

The sale of tickets for "The Jollies of 1923" has been proceeding most satisfactorily, it is announced. Tickets for the performances are to be secured at Adams Pharmacy, Elm and Linden streets.

BACK TO BOYHOOD

J. E. Cain says "The Jollies of 1923" take him back to his boyhood days. The above reproduction of Mr. Cain was said to have been taken some time during that period.

Catholic Women's League Aids Near East Sufferers

The North Shore Catholic Women's league has joined the great band of men and women all over this prosperous country who are making every effort to carry more than a million victims of Turkish cruelty in the Near East, through the rigors of winter. A generous contribution of $25 has just been sent to Near East Relief headquarters in Chicago.

Radio, the latest invention of science, has been pressed into service on behalf of the sufferers. Clifford F. Jackman, recently returned from active relief work on the scene of disaster, is still receiving contributions from homes which "listened in" on the appeal which he broadcasted recently.
