At Neighboring Theatres

Hoyburn Theatre

The week of March 19 promises much of interest for Hoyburn patrons. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien in the great success, "The Voice of the Minaret," from the novel by Robert Hichens. This film has been characterized as the "love-call of Salome, Sheba, Cleopatra, on the Wings of desert night."

Friday, March 23, brings a return showing of "The Hottentot" to the Hoyburn. This time the film will appear as a benefit for the Janet Steele Library of the Miller school, Evanston. Douglas McLean and Madge Bellamy are the stars.

Harold Lloyd will be seen on Friday in "Get Out and Get Under."

Harry Carey will be seen at the Hoyburn on Saturday, March 24, in "Canyon of the Fools," filmed from the well known Saturday Evening Post story of that title.

Adelphi Theatre

Madge Bellamy and John Bowers will lead the Adelphi program Monday and Tuesday, March 19 and 20. The vehicle is "Lorna Doone," picturization of the novel and stage success.

"The Third Alarm," popular play depicting the heroism of the metropolitan firemen, will be at the Adelphi on Wednesday and Thursday, March 21 and 22.

The usual Friday double bill on March 23 will feature Charles "Buck" Jones in the "Boss of Camp Four," and Henry B. Walthall in "Parted Curtains."

On Saturday, March 24 Adelphi patrons will view the latest Tom Mix thriller, "Catch My Smoke."

"The Kingdom Within" will be the attraction on Sunday, March 25.

Howard Theatre

Dustin Farnum in "The Buster" will be the Howard Theatre headliner on Sunday, March 18.

Monday and Tuesday, March 19 and 20 brings the interesting drama "What a Wife Learned" to the attention of Howard patrons.

Gloria Swanson holds the spotlight on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 21, 22 and 23 in her very latest and usual success, "My American Wife," rated as one of her greatest productions.

Saturday's attraction will be "Drums of Fate."

Plays scheduled for the very near future include "Lorna Doone," "The Woman in Bronze" (Clara Kimball Young) and "Nobody's Money," starring Jack Holt.

The New Evanston

"Singed Wings" is the attraction at the New Evanston theatre this week-end. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 19, 20, and 21, brings Dorothy Dalton's latest success, "Dark Secrets" to the New Evanston.

Coming March 26, is "Tess of the Storm Country," the remarkable Mary Pickford rejuvenation of the early film success.

Music at the New Evanston continues an important feature at every performance. James Kozak and his accomplished orchestra has won a place with north shore music lovers and already is considered a north shore "institution."

Fell In Love With Mary; Told Her on Nuptial Day

A love story never before revealed—the love of the late George Loane Tucker for Mary Pickford—is recounted in the March issue of Photoplay Magazine, in a somewhat unusual collection of "Untold Love Stories of the Stars."

He fell in love with her when he was her leading man. But he went away, still afraid to tell her that he loved her. Then he dashed across the continent to beg her to become his wife, only to find that she had been married the day before to another man.

That is the story of George Loane Tucker's youthful love and Mary Pickford.

The great director of "The Miracle Man" who died last year was only a good looking young actor then. And Mary was a little girl with golden curls untouched by the fame that surrounds her today.

She and Tucker played together in a few crude, primitive pictures and he fell madly in love with her. But he left without daring to make a declaration.

Small Town Players in Cast of 'Main Street'

The cast of "Main Street," a picturization of Sinclair Lewis' novel, is full of small town screen players. For instance, Monte Blue, who plays the role of Dr. Kennicott, hails from Indiana; Florence Vidor, as Carol, comes from a small town near Houston, Texas; Harry Beaumont, the director, was born in Abilene, Kansas; and Julien Josephson, who adapted the novel, comes from Rosburg, Oregon. The picture is being made at NEARLY all the kiddies carry a bite to eat with them to nibble at recess. Wrap a lady finger or two in a piece of wax paper; then you'll know that the youngster has a wholesome, tasty morsel to eat.

Your grocer sells them; have him send you a dozen or two.

No wonder a director swears sometimes. In filming "Scars of Jealousy" an inconvenient snow storm had to be removed from a large part of a mountain before work could proceed.

Why cling to the old luxury -idea about ORIENTAL RUGS

People nowadays don't purchase things according to price-precedent only. They look further—they want to know what the price represents—in value—in service—in satisfaction.

Anybody would rather have one fine Oriental Rug—the patient handwork of artist weavers—than three or four commercial machined rugs—yet the one need not cost as much as the three or four. You rarely have to replace fine Oriental Rugs.

Why not look ahead—save money in the length of service—derive daily enjoyment—pride of ownership—permanent satisfaction?

Our huge Spring Importations represent months of painstaking selection—piece by piece—by our agents operating out of Sultanabad, Persia and Constantinople.

We know the history of every rug—therefore you may know just what you are selecting. Values were never more interesting.
