Last Wednesday evening some sixty Oak Street Circle members and their husbands met informally at dinner in Community House. The program consisted of solo numbers by Mrs. Louise Kreiter, Mrs. Gertrude Thurston and Dr. Davies Lazear, with Miss Estelle Heintzelman at the piano. Lee Estelle caused much hilarity by performing on his imported Boom-bas, this being an entire orchestra combined in one instrument, which he recently received from Germany. Mrs. C. E. Karnopp gave two delightfully entertaining readings. As a very special favor, Rudolph Valentino and his bride, in costume, (impersonated by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hollister), consented to do some of their most entrancing skits. After the program, the guests moved into the Assembly Room where Mr. W. F. Groene entertained with his radio.

Some new residents in this locality were present and the Oak Street Circle takes this opportunity to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Carl Braun of Oak street and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson of 873 Cherry street.

The Entre Nos club arranged an interesting program for its meeting on Wednesday of this week.
