

LODGE IS BUSY IN DEGREE WORK

Class of Seven Give Work Saturday

Winnetka lodge of the Masonic order spent Saturday afternoon and evening in conferring the Third Degree on a class of seven candidates.

It was an enthusiastic meeting and everyone entered into the spirit of the work with eagerness. A large number of masters, past masters and visiting brethren, were present from neighboring lodges, and those who took part in the work gave excellent example of how it should be performed.

No finer class of men ever received the Third Degree than those who were made Master Masons Saturday afternoon. Some of these men occupy positions of considerable prominence in the business world. The class was made up as follows:

James Henry Thomas, Herman O. K. Meister, Charles E. Maxwell, Jr., Arthur E. Bryson, Peter Denny, Horace E. Newhall, Paul D. Blake.

Hear Chaplain Davies
At 6:30 o'clock the brethren adjourned for one hour to partake of a tempting dinner which was served at the Community House. After the dinner man was properly taken care of the Brethern listened to their chaplain, Rev. J. F. Davies, who made one of his characteristic, short addresses. Work was resumed at 7:30, and some of the finest ritualistic work ever witnessed in Winnetka lodge was put on. The work of the visiting masters, past masters and brethren was worthy of much admiration and praise. Among these visitors were the following prominent Masons:

A. J. Austin, River Forest lodge; Fred A. Marshall, Golden Rule lodge, Chicago; F. A. Frost, master, Park lodge; George Greene, A. O. lodge, Highland Park; Arthur J. Holland and H. L. Hammond of Lake Forest lodge; W. J. Rayney, Circle lodge, Chicago; F. C. Wellman, Community lodge, Chicago; F. E. Bolton, Robert Lash lodge, Boston, Mass.; Fred H. Topp and Hendrick A.
