

The "Buccaneer" Chest $75.00

WILL YOU HAVE OCCASION TO REGRET IT AGAIN?

"If the moths hadn't eaten holes in my coat last summer, I wouldn't have to buy a new one."

Perhaps when next fall comes around you will find your clothes damaged again.

Yet it is not necessary. A cedar chest will protect them. The United States Department of Agriculture experimented with cedar chests and moths for over a year. The Entomologists found that the aroma of cedar will kill the young moth worms.

The "Buccaneer" is made of solid walnut and lined throughout with Tennessee Red Cedar. The kind that PROTECTS your clothes.

Every one should read "Moth Truths" the booklet that tells the story of the government experiments in an entertaining way. We will be glad to mail you one on request.

Winnetka League of Women Voters Elect Miss Gemmell Pres.

THE annual meeting of the Winnetka League of Women Voters was held Thursday, May 10, at 11 o'clock, followed by a luncheon at the Winnetka Woman's Club. After the various reports from the different committees were read, the new officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows:

Miss Elizabeth Gemmell, President; Mrs. Walter T. Fisher, 1st Vice President; Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Jr., 2nd Vice President; Mrs. H. L. Woolhiser, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Milton Blair, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. George Stanley Parker, Treasurer.

Mrs. Emons Blaine, Jr., gave a very interesting talk on the recent Convention held by the National League of Women Voters in Des Moines in April. She specially dwelt on the subject of World Peace, which discussion was led by prominent speakers, such as Judge Allen of Ohio, Lord Robert Cecil, Miss Julia Lathrop, Herbert Hoover, and Mrs. Clifford Pinchot. Mrs. Blaine explained that the Convention went on record as approving a Court of International Justice, and expressed itself as desiring to abolish war and maintain abiding peace.

Mrs. William G. Hibbard, Fourth Regional Director, followed Mrs. Blaine by a talk about the Convention, in which she emphasized the fact that a widespread interest in international relations has been awakened in this country, citing as an example the Round Table discussions about world problems that had been started in Minneapolis, which have had splendid results. Then, too, the League has succeeded in enlisting the support of Mr. W. A. Steffes, who is President of the Northwestern Motion Picture Theatre Owners. Mr. Steffes is backing a plan to show in every moving picture theatre controlled by his organization a series of quotations from prominent men and women on Peace, Disarmament, and International Cooperation. These facts concerning world peace are to be given widespread publicity throughout the country. Mrs. Hibbard urged that the members of the Winnetka League write to Mr. Steffes, telling him that they have heard of his plan and that they heartily indorse it and hope that it can be extended to Illinois.

Following this meeting a delightful luncheon was served in the club rooms.

That "On Fairies' Wings" is an assured success, socially at least, is the conclusion drawn after glancing over the long list of prominent residents in the village, who are sponsoring the performance, and are thoroughly interested in the building plans for the National Kindergarten and Elementary college, which is to be moved to the Wilmette-Evanston boundary line, as soon as sufficient funds can be procured to erect new buildings on the recently purchased campus site.

The play is a depiction of fairyland, as conceived by experts on juvenile entertainment, the young women being trained at the college as future kindergarten and primary teachers.

This was their fifth winter in the golden state, and this year Mr. Albright found paintable places all the way from San Luis Obispo to San Diego. California has given him new backgrounds and the mountains and Spanish architecture have enriched his compositions.

Mr. Albright's painting, "An American Country Boy," at the recent exhibition of works by the artists of Chicago thoroughly characteristic of his aims, a canvas of high rank and remembered as one of the best in the exhibition, as the portrait study entered by his son one of the most promising canvases of the younger artists exhibiting for the first time.

The Oak Street Circle will be entertained next Tuesday, May 22, at two o'clock, by Mrs. Gertrude Thurston, 822 Oak street. This is to be the annual closing meeting; therefore a full attendance is anticipated to vote in the new officers, hear yearly reports, and last but not least, enjoy an exceptional program.

Mrs. Anita Burnham will talk on her recent European trip and Mrs. H. Norman Cophorne will sing.

A pretty little plan originated by the Circles was for the various Circles to get together and treat the little orphans at the Dorcas Home this afternoon, seeing "On Fairies' Wings", the play to be given by the National Kindergarten students. A happy, glorious time is anticipated by the little folks who are to be brought down in automobiles, given a treat of candy, a gift of a balloon and then be safely returned to their home.

Miss Lucretia Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ogden Green, was elected president of the Junior League of Chicago, for the coming year at the annual election last week. Miss Green, who is a most popular young woman in society, is a delegate to the conference of Junior Leagues of America being held in Detroit this week.

Mrs. James L. Houghteling and her daughters, Miss Harriot and Miss Leila Houghteling, 731 Prospect avenue, will go abroad the latter part of next month, for the remainder of the summer.
