

B. F. PATTERSON TAKEN BY DEATH

Called Splendid Type of Business Man

Bernard F. Patterson, 918 Linden avenue, Wilmette, a member of the firm of Patterson Brothers, well-known north shore dealers in musical instruments and household appliances, died Sunday evening, June 24, following an extended illness.

Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday morning.

Mr. Patterson, who had been associated in business with his brother, James K. Patterson, for the past fifteen years, was one of the energetic type of merchant. Starting as north shore agents for the Singer Sewing Machine company, the firm, within a few years, added a line of pianos, phonographs and electrical household appliances. A few years ago a large store space at 828 Davis street, Evanston, was occupied, and a second store established at 1950 Irving Park boulevard, Chicago.

Built Large Business

The business has become the most extensive of its kind on the north shore, due largely to the tireless energy of Bernard F. Patterson who, even in recent years, emphasized the advantages of old-fashioned personal service. It was quite common to see Mr. Patterson pack a sewing machine or phonograph on a truck and make a personal delivery to some north shore home. He did it because he liked to give personal service to the customer.

Although Mr. Patterson had been suffering from anemia for more than a year, his death came as a surprise to his many friends. Since the first of the year he had remained at home directing his business from the residence. Mr. Patterson's health was thought to be improving until he suffered a relapse last Saturday, and finally succumbed to heart disease. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Knights of Pythias, Kiwanis club and a charter member of the Elks. He is survived by his widow, Frances J., and four children: Bernardette, Mary, John and Charles all residing at home.

Leave The Dogs at Home, Chief Peterson's Advice

Leave the dogs at home when you take your family to the Fourth of July observances!

This is important, Chief of Police Peterson explains in that the household pets usually become a nuisance in the crowds and are especially annoying when programs are in progress, interfering seriously when there is speaking, or singing, or the field events are being held. "Chances are," our chief says, "the dogs wouldn't appreciate what's going on anyway, so it's just as well to let them stay at home and do service as guards when the families are attending the celebration."
