

COAL—

was the fuel intended for your heating plant when designed.

Expert engineers are still constructing coal-consuming heating plants for homes.

Should there be a better fuel, manufacturers of heating equipment would design one accordingly.

A bin filled with the safe, reliable fuel—Coal, is your best assurance for a properly heated home.

Should you contemplate building, visit many of the beautiful homes being constructed with our materials, and observe the wonderful quality of the products used.

WINNETKA COAL-LUMBER

PHONE 734 COMPANY PHONE 735

EARL WEINSTOCK, Manager