

"Gingham Dog," "Calico Cat" Raggedy Ann, in Magic City

ON Saturday, December 8, the day of the Toy Carnival given under the direction of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college, the beautiful halls of the Evanston Woman's Club will become a Magic City, where boys and girls may find delightful entertainment, may be served with wholesome and delicious lunches, and may purchase simple and appropriate gifts for every member of the family.

The Boulevard of Balloons, brilliant and bouyant, will lead to the Pixy Playhouse, where piquant players will give pleasure in continuous performances throughout the gala day. At the Elfin Inn one may be served at noon time with wholesome hot lunches to suit giant appetites, and in the afternoon, with fragile ices from the Fairy Fountain.

In Mother Goose Gallery one may examine and purchase the best of books—picture books, song books, story books, rhyme books, and scrap books, made and ready to make. Along Sugar Plum Street will grow trees bearing gay goodies, beneath whose branches Gingerbread Ducks will ride upon Chocolate Cookie Horses, and Lollypop Girls will stroll with Gum-drop Boys past cunning candy castles.

In the Tower of Toys the Gingham Dog and the Calico Cat "will wallow this way and tumble that" in what is very clearly "a terrible spat," while nearby Raggedy Ann and Petite Collette will swing peacefully in the Garden of Dolls. In the Baby Building one may buy everything that is pretty for Baby to wear and to play with, while Parents' Palace will display all sorts of pretty surprises for boys and girls to use in filling the stockings of Mother and Daddy and Grandmother,—with prices well within the powers of small purses.

Children who wish a bit of fun before going home and a souvenir of the merry day may visit Happiness Hall, where jolly amusements of all sorts and tiny novelty toys may be had for dimes and nickels.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Koch, 465 Spruce street, will be the scene of an informal wedding next Wednesday afternoon, when their daughter, Erma will become the bride of Mr. Peter Lucchesi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lucchesi, 677 Willow street. Hall, 1868 Sheridan road, Evanston, busily preparing attractive articles for the Toy Carnival to be held December 8 at the Evanston Woman's club. The proceeds of the Carnival sale will help to swell the college building fund. Surely there are many whom the Carnival committee has not reached, who would like to assist in this splendid undertaking. The Carnival of last year proved of real service to parents and children in their Christmas shopping, and this year's on a larger scale, will be of still greater service. Mrs. Florence S. Capron, 1414 Hinman avenue, Evanston, general chairman of the Carnival will be glad to hear from any who are willing to give service or suggestions.

Mrs. Percy Skillin, of Wilmette, and Mrs. Ernest Byfield, of Glencoe, are among the hostesses at the new shop opened on Monday at 106 East Walton place, Chicago, under the auspices of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins.

According to Mrs. Skillin, treasurer of the society, an increasing demand for the handwork of the "homebound" who find occupation and remuneration through the efforts of the society has necessitated the opening of this shop in addition to the regular quarters on North Michigan avenue.

Lovely Italian linens, woven household novelties, hooked and braided rugs, painted toys and many other unique hand made articles are included in the shop's offerings.

The Winnetka Woman's Club will open its season with a luncheon on October fourth. The program given in the afternoon will be in charge of the Art and Literature committee; the subject, "Three Famous Women Poets in History and Song." Mrs. Phanstiel, Mrs. Disield and Mrs. D. C. Orcutt will be in charge of this meeting.
