

Watch Out for This Fellow— Realtor Warns

"Watch out for the Chicago fellow who wants to recoat your gravel roof or reshingle your home, the prices are cheap, but the work is cheaper." That is the warning sounded by a local real estate man to the property owners of the north shore.

It is said that a certain person is getting contracts in this vicinity to do general repair work on houses with a written guarantee of complete satisfaction but when the work is done, the contractor is gone and there is no one to receive the complaints.

One property owner reports the roof of his home was repaired and a concrete base made for the chimney but all that was ever done was the driving of a handful of nails in the roof and some kind of a substitute used for the concrete which washed away with the rain. According to the real estate concern, "the whole thing is a 'skin-flint' game operated by unlicensed grafters."

Radio Shop Our Latest Addition to Elm Street

Winnetka has a new radio service shop. C. H. Affeldt opened the store at 18 Prouty Annex last Saturday and is prepared to handle complete radio sets as well as equipment for all types of sets, ranging from the crystal variety to the most expensive outfits.

An excellent radio set has been installed in the shop and Mr. Affeldt announces the shop will be held every evening. Persons interested in radio are invited to visit the shop at any time and secure information without charge.

Mr. Affeldt has been in the business of constructing radio sets for some time and is considered thoroughly expert in his line.

RIDING CLUB SEASON OPENS

Hold Cross Country Ride Saturday

The Riding Club of Winnetka will open the season with a Cross Country ride on Saturday, September 29, as announced in a letter from the Events committee, consisting of Donald McPherson, chairman, Mrs. Rush C. Butler and William G. Woolfolk.

Members will assemble with their mounts at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the open field just south of the Indian Hill club locker house.

The route will be west through the club to the A. W. Shaw estate, thence west along Winnetka road to the Chicago river, thence south through the Forest Preserve to the north entrance of the Glenview club, thence along the club to the A. W. Shaw estate, thence ton Elms, at whose invitation the Riding club comes to inspect his really wonderful stables, probably the finest outfit of this kind in the west.

Later the riders will have tea at the Glenview Club house and then return to the Indian Hill club by a slightly different route than the one followed on the first half of the Cross Country ride.

This delightful program will be fol-

The Events committee is now at work on a program for October and November so that members of the Riding club may plan in advance for whatever events they wish to take part in.

Patron-Ownership

"The Best Kind of Public Ownership"

—Daily News

Thus, one of Chicago's leading dailies characterizes the movement toward Patron-Ownership. And certain it is, that no more progressive step toward ideal service and ideal relations has yet been made than finds expression in the popularity of utility investments to-day.

Just, as democratic governments thrive best, so does public utility service approach its maximum efficiency as its percentage of Patron-Owners approaches the 100% mark.
