

Photodramas

The New Evanston

Following a sensational success with Harold Lloyd's "Safety Last," the New Evanston is now "packing them in" with that great drama "Ruggles of Red Gap," starring Lois Wilson and Ernest Torrence. The play will remain at the theater over the week-end.

On Monday, Gloria Swanson and H. B. Warner will grace the New Evanston silver sheet in the film version of that great French production, "Zaza," made famous on the stage and in opera.

"Zaza" is Gloria Swanson's latest picture and is accounted by many critics as her very best effort. Mr. Warner's appearance in the picture is especially interesting at this time in view of the fact, he is being so favorably received in the spoken drama, "You and I," now playing at the Playhouse.

More exclusive super-dramas for the New Evanston in the coming weeks.

Hoyburn Theatre

The week of Monday, October 15, brings three super-productions to the Hoyburn in "Trilby," showing Monday and Tuesday; "The Last Moment," showing on Wednesday, and "Main Street," booked for the balance of the week.

"Trilby" is taken from the famous story of that title. Andree Lafayette makes a charming Trilby and Arthur Edmund Carew's impersonation of Svengali is called a masterpiece of art. The production is considered one of the real classics of screen history.

"The Last Moment," is Jack Boyle's thrilling tale of society and sea life. It is a mystery story of unusual fascination. An all-star cast is seen in this production and the settings are attractive and realistic.

"Main Street," known to every reader in the United States, is a faithful interpretation of Sinclair Lewis' most sensational novel. Such well known players as Monte Blue, Florence Vidor and Noah Beery, head the great cast of characters. It is a Warner Brothers production.

Howard Theatre

"Main Street," screen version of Sinclair Lewis' celebrated story of that title, will be the Howard offering for Friday and Saturday, October 12 and 13. Florence Vidor and Monte Blue have the leading roles, with Noah Beery appearing prominently in the supporting cast. Forrest Nicholi, cornetist, will be as a treat on the musical program.

For Sunday, October 14, Tom Mix will be displayed in one of his customary thrillers, this time entitled "The Lone Star Trail." "Jungle Pals" will be an added feature.

Robert W. Chambers' novel, "The Common Law," will be seen in its film interpretation at the Howard Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Corinne Griffith, Conway Tearle and Elliott Dexter are the stars. Syble Comer, known as "a Spanish Singer of Spanish Songs," is billed for the specialty entertainment.

Adelphi Theatre

Elaine Hammerstein is the Adelphi star for Friday and Saturday of this week. "Broadway Gold" is the vehicle for this comely and talented player who has scores of triumphs to her credit.

Buster Keaton will provide the comedy, his latest, "The Love Nest." "Salomy Jane," with Jacqueline Logan, George Fawcett and Maurice Flynn, will be seen on Sunday and Monday, October 14 and 15.

Adelphi patrons will have the privilege of seeing a treasured favorite on Tuesday's programs in the appearance of Enid Bennett, in her production, "Your Friend and Mine."

The season's sensation, "Down to the Sea in Ships" will come to the Adelphi for two days showing on Wednesday and Thursday. It is unquestionably one of the greatest pictures ever filmed. Real whale hunts and everything!

"Main Street"

This widely read story by Sinclair Lewis is one of the great screen epics of the season—a Warner Brothers production with an eminent cast, including Florence Vidor, Monte Blue and Noah Beery. This great screen drama is considered even superior to the book, as often proves the case.

qualified shall take part in the round-up, and it is expected that the four months' drive will develop millions of dollars that have been withheld by the taxpayers. Special instructions have been issued, however, that the investigations shall be conducted with as little annoyance to the taxpayers as possible.

Where unreported income is disclosed by investigations made by field deputies under the law the maximum penalties must be imposed, but where the taxpayers voluntarily report mistakes in filing returns the policy of the bureau is to be as lenient as the law will permit.

With the ninety thousand district warrants inherited when she took office now reduced to three thousands, Collector Mabel G. Reinecke of this district, declares that her deputies are now ready to do good work in the new drive.

Palmer E. Anderson, chief field deputy of the district, will be charged with the duty of overseeing the work of the field deputies throughout the 30 northern counties of Illinois.

LARGE KITCHENS PASSING

Large kitchens, along with kerosene lamps and wood fired cook-stoves, are almost extinct. A small, compact kitchen, well ventilated and lighted, where electricity and gas are ready servants, is not only less fatiguing through saving the housewife countless steps in a day's work, but goes far towards promoting health and happiness.
