

POLLOCK TALKS AT NEW TRIER

Author of "The Fool" Delights Students with Splendid Address

WANTS GOOD PLAYS

Lauds Mark Twain Type of Humor

On Thursday of last week the student body and faculty of New Trier High school were given the opportunity of hearing a delightful talk by Channing Pollock, author of "The Fool," who, a few weeks before had similarly entertained a large audience at the Wilmette Sunday Evening club.

Mr. Pollock spoke about the genuine enjoyment to be found in good books, good paintings, and good plays. "It would be too bad," said he, "if we were to derive our ideas of comedy and humor from a newspaper's comic page or from a custard pie comedy in a movie show." Then the playwright told of the true amusement contained in the works of Mark Twain, and the unrivalled beauty and action in the plays of Shakespeare. When the theater affords such a great means of influencing tens of thousands of people daily it is important that this influence should be a good one. An afternoon or evening spent in viewing a play which is of no lasting value means three good hours thrown away.

To promote an interest in the right sort of entertainment Mr. Pollock wrote "The Fool," which has been a great success, and is today being shown all over the country by seven different companies.

Would be Lighthouse Keeper

In another part of his talk Mr. Pollock expressed the desire to some day be a lighthouse keeper, and be in a place where, free from bother and care, he could read the books which thus far he has not found time for. In this way he would be finding real contentment.

From beginning to end Mr. Pollock kept his audience at the peak of interest with his attractive manner of expression and his many jokes. During the entire address there was not a dull moment.

First of Series

This talk by this noted author is the first of a series of entertainments by well known people, whom Mr. Clerk plans to secure throughout the year for speaking before the pupils and teachers of the high school.

"Our first speaker," said Mr. Clerk, "has set a high standard for the others to live up to, but nevertheless I am confident that his followers will also offer many very fine programs."

THE PUBLIC FORUM

Winnetka Talk,
My dear Editor:

The Community Memorial committee of Winnetka decided that they would like to take as many steps as possible towards disbanding and in this connection, they requested the Village Improvement Association of Winnetka to take over their responsibilities in connection with the Soldiers' Memorial which has been agitated for some time.

The Board of Management of the Village Improvement Association accepted this responsibility and is looking for ways and means to accomplish a satisfactory and suitable result.

There is a very handsome and what seems to me adequate design for the memorial which has been accepted by all the different interests in Winnetka. However, there seems to be some undercurrent of objection to this particular design among the members of the Winnetka Legion.

I would like to know whether the Legion really has any objections and whether its objections are from individuals that do not understand or are official objections.

I read recently an editorial in your good sheet in connection with the Soldiers' Memorial and I have one very strong objection to this publicity. My objection is that it did not appear on the front page.

Very truly yours,

Winnetka Chorus In Its Initial Meeting

The new Winnetka Chorus held its first meeting last Monday in the parlors of the Winnetka Woman's club. Over sixty bona fide members were present.

After a few suitable remarks by Mrs. Otis on the general object of the organization, the new director, Noble Cain, was introduced. Without delay he plunged into the business of the occasion, dividing the singers into four groups—sopranos, altos, tenors, and basses. The chorus practiced first a very attractive part-song, composed by Wilhelm Gericke, at one time leader of the Boston Symphony orchestra. After this the chorus glanced over Henry Hadley's choral masterpiece, "The New Earth," the words of which were written by Mrs. Louise Ayres Garnett of Evanston.

The chorus will meet again on next Monday evening in the club-rooms.

WINNETKA WOMAN'S CLUB

THE first open meeting of the Winnetka Woman's club was held Thursday afternoon, November 1, at the clubhouse. The president, Mrs. Willoughby Walling, made the following announcements:

Attention was called to the White Elephant Sale at Community House on November 14 and 15 and all members are urged to bring their treasures for this worthy cause. On Thursday, those desiring luncheon at Community House will be served by the Czecho-Slovakia society, Mrs. Balak will be in charge.

Miss Gemmell, president of the Illinois League of Women Voters, announced the drive for new members for the Illinois League of Women Voters now under way and urged an earnest response.

Mrs. Taliaferro Milton, who was the delegate to the National Birth Control Conference held in Chicago, gave a most interesting and convincing report on this conference.

Notice was given of the Red Cross Drive which will open at the next club meeting and all members were asked to come prepared to buy their seals.

As the program for the afternoon was a joint affair, the Illinois League of Women Voters joining the Civics and Philanthropy committee of the club, there were two speakers present, with Miss Gemmell and Mrs. Cushman in charge.

Miss Gemmell introduced Mrs. Florence Bennett Peterson, chairman of the Department of Efficiency in Government, Illinois League of Women Voters, who touched briefly but comprehensively on the Zoo Act, then made a strong plea in support of Miss Mary Bartelme, who was a candidate for Judge of the Circuit court. She urged the necessity of awakening the indifferent voter to action at the polls, sustaining her plea by the statistics that at the last Presidential election only 61 per cent of the eligible voters cast their ballot, while only 46 per cent of the women voted. Mrs. Cushman then presented Dr. James A. James, head of the Department of History at Northwestern university. Dr. James is a very pleasing speaker, possessing subtle humor and kept his audience keenly interested in his address, the subject of which was "Ideals in American History." This subject was handled in a most proficient manner, the speaker taking step by step, our progress from the historical standpoint, from the early colonist time to the States ratification and Amendment of the Constitution and then on to the present object of interest, the League of Nations. This was Dr. James' ultimate point and one which he presented to his audience in a conclusive manner. The meeting adjourned, with the social hour, tea being served in the parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hannaford, 760 Foxdale avenue, who have recently sold their home, will move to Rogers Park the first of the week.

Always Favor the Dealer Who Sells Hydrox

HE PAYS more for it than he would have to pay for practically any other ice cream in Chicago.

He does this to guarantee the protection of your health and to give you the best in quality that can be made.

Most other dealers pay far less for the ice cream they sell you and then try to charge you the HYDROX price.

Just buying any ice cream at the nearest corner and ignoring the HYDROX dealer who is doing so much to protect you isn't fair to him.

And paying the HYDROX price for the ordinary run of ice cream certainly isn't fair to you.
