

Kenilworth Happenings

The entertainment committee of the Kenilworth club sponsored an illustrated lecture by Dr. Fay Cooper Cole on Monday evening, November 12, whose subject was "Where the East and West Meet." Dr. Cole formerly the assistant curator of the Department of Anthropology of the Field Museum has just returned from a year and a half spent in the Malay peninsula, Sumatra, Java and vicinity, having headed an expedition to these countries for the museum.

Dr. Cole, who is an authority on his subject, has appeared before Kenilworth audiences previously and had a very fascinating story as well as pictures illustrating the life and habits of these strange and interesting people.

Among those who left Kenilworth Thursday, for New Haven, Conn., to see the Yale-Princeton game on Saturday, and later visit in New York city were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Hannah, 256 Woodstock road, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ridgway, 207 Cumberland avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Y. Ball, 306 Woodstock road, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Littell, 322 Woodstock road, Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Cresap, 239 Essex road, Mr. and Mrs. Claude G. Burnham, 509 Roslyn road, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart.

Subscriptions for the Red Cross and renewals of membership are now being taken. The drive closes Thanksgiving Day. Miss Miriam Shattuck, 338 Kenilworth avenue, is chairman of the Red Cross committee in Kenilworth and those working under her direction are the Misses Virginia and Helen Little, Elizabeth Hannah, Katherine Stolp, Katherine Merrill, Dorothy and Emily Foresman and Elizabeth Stevens.

In view of the existing cold weather bound to continue for the next few months and for the purpose of pleasure, exercise and good fellowship, the bowling season opened on Monday evening at the Culbertson gymnasium (Union church). New residents are especially urged to participate. Ladies' Night will be every Wednesday. This stands as an official notice from the Bowling Alley committee.

A Current Events and Literary Review of the Late Books class was opened on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. W. Burchard. Mrs. Ethel Colson Brazelton will be the speaker and the class will meet every fortnight. On Tuesday the subjects were "A Resume of the Summer's Current Events" and a review of some of the latest books.

Mrs. Henry Riggs Rathbone, 312 Sheridan road, was the speaker at the Rockford Woman's club on Tuesday of this week. Her subject was "Scandinavian Literature and Music." She augmented her talk with a group of Scandinavian songs.

The Neighbors held a meeting on Thursday afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock. Mrs. Ora Padget Langer, soprano, gave a delightful program of "Folk Songs," and Mrs. Charles T. Chandler read an interesting paper entitled "Something Sings."

The Vocational Society for Shut-Ins gave an exhibit and sale of linens, rugs, cushions and novelties made under its direction on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Edwin Hedrick, 304 Melrose avenue. $700 was realized.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Berger, 306 Kenilworth avenue, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Carl Langer at dinner following the meeting of the Neighbors on Thursday, where Mrs. Langer presented a program of songs.

Mrs. Henry Everett, 415 Cumnor road, will entertain at luncheon and bridge at her home on Saturday.

Flower Show and Dance At Shoreen's This Week

Evanston's first flower show under auspices of north shore florists is being held this week-end in the spacious display room of the Shoreen Motor company, 2525 West Railroad avenue. A silver cup is to be awarded for the best floral exhibit.

A feature of the show will be the designation of the winner of a popularity contest conducted by the North End Business Men's association.

The show will close on Saturday night with a great Harvest Dance with music furnished by Krieger's orchestra.

There is no admission to the Flower show.

Occupants Unhurt When Autos Crash on Drive

Automobiles driven by E. E. Beach, and Mrs. W. H. Croft, both of Chicago, collided on Sheridan road at Kenilworth last Saturday afternoon. The machines were badly damaged but the occupants uninjured, according to the police.

Another accident occurred at Sheridan road and Winnetka avenue early Monday morning, when cars driven by Mrs. J. R. Glass and H. Carsten, crashed at that intersection as Mrs. Glass' car was turning into the drive. None of the occupants were seriously injured.

"Little Women" Play Given at New Trier

Tonight at 8 o'clock, in the school auditorium, the Dramatic club of New Trier High school will give its second presentation of "Little Women," taken from the well known book of the same name by Louisa M. Alcott.

The first performance last night won much applause from the audience because of the excellent acting and attractive setting. Tickets can be obtained at the door.
