

Turkeys Do Have a Way of Making One Feel Small

Theoretically, the charge from a perfectly good police department shotgun scatters over a considerable area, so that one can rely implicitly upon having some "shot" hit a given mark.

But the theory was bursted all to smithereens last Friday when patrolman William Burgdorf fared forth to the H. R. Urion home at 989 Cherry street, where a prize turkey had lodged itself high in the uppermost branches of a lofty elm.

Burgdorf blazed away at the errant gobbler—twice, and, at each blazing, the bird simply gobbled a bit and ruffled its feathers in a manner to imply an equine guffaw.

Burgdorf went back to the arsenal at police headquarters and replenished his shell chambers. It is estimated that the third shot brought the proud truant to an untimely death.

"Must have been something wrong with those shells," Burgdorf explained to Chief Peterson. "I shot right at his head, because I didn't want to fill him full of lead, but he didn't as much as move. But the third shot got him for keeps."

The question that perplexes the members of the police department, is: Did the turkey get shot or merely expire from the shock of being shot at and missed.

Hearing Next Tuesday On Contemplated Sub-Station

Interested property owners are urged to attend a public hearing at the Village hall, Tuesday evening, December 18, for the purpose of discussing a request of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Electric railway to be permitted to establish a sub-station on its property at the northeast corner of Foxdale and Humboldt avenues, the sub-station to be used for transforming high voltage energy for operation of the electric railroad.

Under the provisions of the Zoning ordinance, local officials explain, the council may, after public notice and hearing, authorize, in any location, a structure or premises to be used by a public service corporation or for public utility or municipal purposes, which it deems reasonably necessary for the public convenience and welfare.

The hearing on Tuesday evening is called by the Zoning committee of the Village council, of which Mary A. Langworthy is chairman.

It is stated that a group of interested property owners have organized to protest the proposed establishment of the sub-station in the locality indicated.

Arcanum Basketball Men Looking for Competition

The basketball teams representing Winnetka council, Royal Arcanum, are "rarin' to go." Leasewise, one may surmise that fact in reading the challenge sent forth this week to all aspiring cage athletes.

The Arcs are looking for games in both the light and heavy-weight classes, it is announced. Information may be secured by communicating with H. Larson, phone Winnetka 1575 or H. Arb'n, phone Winnetka 525-R. "Let's Go!" concludes the challenge.

Men's Class to Spread Cheer at Vets Hosiptal

Members of the Sunday Morning Men's Class of the Winnetka Congregational church have given $66.50 toward Christmas cheer for the disabled men in the Great Lakes and Fort Sheridan hospitals.

The contribution comes in response to an appeal sent forth by the Waukegan Y. M. C. A. several weeks ago, requesting that the men in the hospitals be not forgotten over the holidays. Contributions from the individual were limited to one dollar.

The Men's class will hold its regular meeting tomorrow at the Great Lakes hospital, automobile transportation having been provided for every member. They are to visit the unfortunate men, for the most part victims of shell-shock (principally mental cases), and spread a bit of cheer as the holidays approach.

Members of the class who cannot make the trip to Great Lakes, are informed that a class session will be held at Community House, presided over by Prof. William A. Hadley.

Those who go to Great Lakes are requested to be at Community House at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning.
