Federation President Praise Women Today

WOMEN of America stand behind a human solution of industrial, governmental, diplomatic, and other problems confronting the nation and the world. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, told the Sunday Afternoon club, in Evanston recently.

Winter spoke on "This Change—stretched the growth of woman through the long ages to her great power in the present day. Upon women, she said, lies the burden of building up the spiritual quality and the development of spiritual life in the nation, as well as participating in its civic affairs.

"When we consider industrial problems, we must first ask, how does it affect human life," she said. "When we discuss governmental affairs, first let us ask, how does it affect human life? When we take up diplomatic policies, let us ask the same question, how does it affect human life? When we offer a human solution to such questions, when we really have the welfare of humanity at heart, then the veil of ignorance will be lifted, and we will be given the intelligence to solve them.

In the ages which have preceded the twentieth century, women first were regarded as self-sacrificing beings; next they fought for self respect, and intellectual and social rights. Today they have gained political freedom, and co-operate with men on an equal footing, said Mrs. Winter.

Concerning the bobbed hair, pink checked girl of today, Mrs. Winter declared she had brain, character, nerve and purpose.

"I am not afraid of the new girl, she said. "I believe she will solve her problems clearly."

She told the story of a young girl of the flapper type who was writing a book on chemistry to be used in college laboratories. The same girl met with a terrible automobile accident and sustained serious physical injuries. When aid came, she demanded that she drive back to the city "for fear she would lose her nerve and could never drive again" if she did not.

The breath and originality of thought as well as the deep spirituality of Dr. Tittle's lectures have gained him a large following. Mr. Glenn Drake, a Evanston tenor of note, will sing

CHICAGO MASONS START DRIVE FOR NEW TEMPLE

John F. Gilchrist, vice-president of the Commonwealth Edison company, has been chosen general chairman of the committee arranging the campaign for the raising of $5,000,000 with which to erect a masonic temple on the site occupied in part by the Colonial theater, Chicago. Sixty masonic lodges have selected chairmen to participate in the drive, which will be held the week beginning February 4. These chairmen recently met at a luncheon at the Morrison hotel and received preliminary instructions and general information concerning the movement to give Chicago one of the finest fraternal temples in the world.

Elmer E. Beach, past grand master for Illinois, and president of the United Masonic Temple corporation, which will erect the temple, explained to the assembled chairmen details of the plan under which the temple will be built and conducted. He said that, calculating on the most conservative basis, the income from the temple would provide a generous margin for retiring the interest-bearing debentures after all expenses were met. He estimated that the income would approximate $700,000 a year. Olof Gates, a member of Ashlar lodge, is director of the campaign, headquarters for which are at 28 West Randolph street.

Mr. Beach, who has been a prominent figure in Illinois masonic circles for many years, is the father of Mrs. George Virgil Lewis of 1420 Lake avenue, Wilmette.
