

CHURCH, DRAMA LEADER COMING

Rev. Irwin St. John Tucker to Speak at Christ Church Sunday Morning

SPEAKS ON THE DRAMA

Sponsors Religious Drama for Chicago

Rev. Irwin St. John Tucker, one of the most brilliant pulpit orators in Chicago and a leader in the field of religious drama will address the congregation of Christ church Sunday morning, February 3, on the subject of "Religious Drama."

On the evening of that day at 8:15 o'clock he will speak more informally on the same theme at the home of Mrs. Ernest S. Ballard, 1229 Hamptondale road, the place of meeting having been changed from the home of Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, in view of the recent death of Mrs. Butler's sister, Mrs. James Houghteling.

Sponsors Community Drama
Dr. Tucker, who is the author of "The Sangreal," now being presented by the Cathedral Players of the Cathedral Players Guild, is one of the foremost advocates of the Community Religious drama, and interested in fostering sentiment in the churches in favor of that very essential phase of religious endeavor.

"The Cathedral Players," reads a notice, "plan a permanent foundation for the regular presentation of religious and ethical drama on a scale worthy of the theme and of the community of Chicago and vicinity. The guild has been formed to support the players in this work."

"The Sangreal," one is informed, "is a mystery drama of the Holy Grail and was first presented in St. Luke's church, Evanston. It was hailed by the religious press of many denominations as one of the great productions of the time."

"The Bishop and council of the Chicago diocese of the Episcopal church have given the play their endorsement and support. Members of all religious bodies, who believe that the teaching power of the drama can and should be directed toward righteousness, and truth are invited to assist in the giving to this great mystery play a presentation worthy of the faith."

the Cathedral Players Guild to have a representative in every parish and in every congregation. Women's clubs, societies, social service groups, literary and dramatic organizations are also invited to be represented in the movement. The Guild hopes to establish a Community drama in Chicago that will challenge the world's attention, it is stated.

Influence for Peace
"You will be proud of having aided an enterprise of this nature," reads the challenge. "Religious plays, when worthily presented, challenge the attention of the world. Oberammergau's Passion play has for centuries drawn millions to witness every presentation."

"Out of the turmoil of the Great War, and in the midst of the desolation and distraction that followed it, can there not be produced a drama of consecration that will help turn men's minds away from slaughter to a new and holier peace?"

CLAVILUX CONCERT VIRTUALLY ASSURED

That the noted "clavilux," an instrument reputed to have made the manipulation of light one of the arts, will be brought to Winnetka by the inventor, Thomas Wilfred, is practically certain if the expected interest is aroused to defray the cost of the entertainment.

W. W. Beatty, principle of Skokie school, who is promoting the concert, announced this week that Miss Rachel B. Kinsolving, Wilfred's manager, had tentatively reserved the Jane Kuppenheimer Memorial auditorium for the afternoon and evening of February 23. She explained to him that the entertainer was interested in the Winnetka proposal and would be glad to come here if the people want to hear him.

In large theaters where the "clavilux" has appeared, it has met with high enthusiasm, being hailed by the critics as nothing short of a marvelous achievement. Through a highly complex arrangement of lights, colors and shadows, the instrument throws upon the screen an ever-changing flood of hues that literally enraptures the eye as a symphony orchestra pleases the ear. Newspaper excerpts endeavoring to describe the phenomenon are veritable vocabulary exercises, most of them admitting in the end that it beggars description.

Mr. Beatty is convinced that the people of Winnetka will appreciate an opportunity to hear the master artist and inventor and believes they will respond heartily when he comes to the village.
