

READY TO SELL RAVINIA BOOKS

Winnetka Committee Announces Plan to Make Canvass of Local Homes

CALLED BIG BARGAIN

Group of Prominent Women Recruited

Winnetka members of the Ravinia club are making a canvas of residents to reserve tickets for the Ravinia musical season which opens June 21. The season tickets will be sold for $18.

The ticket campaign committee has sent out a special notice urging the local residents to back the operatic activities at Ravinia park this summer. The Winnetka members who can supply season tickets are here listed so that local people may obtain them from their own community. The committee letter has the following to say:

Committee Pens Letter
"Another summertime and Ravinia! It hardly seems possible that Ravinia park—the wonder place not only of the middle west but of the musical world—can be looked upon in a matter of fact way by those who live at its very gates but in too many instances it is true!

"It is true that every year a committee of the enthusiastic few must canvass your neighborhood and tell you all over again that you owe Ravinia your support through the advance ticket sale because you as a resident of this north shore, have a personal and civic pride in this institution!

"But surely the committee will not need to 'sell' Ravinia to you this year? The most wonderful cast of singers, the new operas and all the great season plans have been given publicity through the press and pamphlets mailed to your door and most of all you know what to expect because you enjoyed Ravinia last year and the years before that!

"World's Greatest Bargain" seven hd.

"The ticket books are eighteen dollars this year and a saving thereby over separate gate admissions. Don't argue with your solicitor about the price of the tickets as you are getting 'the world's greatest bargain' at the advanced rate and you know it. Do you discuss the price of the tickets with the man at the boxoffice when you go to the opera here and when you go to New York, or buy tickets for the 'Follies' or the baseball games or the movies? Call up your neighborhood solicitor before she calls on you and tell her how many books you want! That's real Ravinia enthusiasm and the spirit that makes Ravinia an immortal place, as immortal as Beyreuth and Oberammergau!"

Consider Linden Avenue Paving at Hearing, June 3

The village board of local improvements announces a public hearing for Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the village hall to consider the proposed paving of Linden avenue in Hubbard Woods.

Because of a misunderstanding, the hearing on this matter, set for May 20, was poorly attended, with the result that the board of local improvements deemed it advisable to postpone its deliberation until June 3. It is hoped that a representative attendance will be found at the postponed hearing. The hour is 7:30 o'clock and the place of hearing in the council chambers.
