

Women Enlist in National War Against Germ-carrying Flies; Provide Millions of "Swatters"

Every fly swatted at this season of the year probably would have been the founder of a dynasty if allowed to live out its allotted time. The genius of Flydom, the Napoleon who will lead his armies, laden with the deadly germs to destroy the purity of milk and pollute clean and wholesome food, is crawling about the upper wall of your kitchen today, a harmless, easily destroyed youth.

Swat him! With one stroke you will wipe out pages and pages of history and the millions of his offspring will be nothing but the might-have-beens of fiction.

Swat every fly whether he seems to show promise of a great career or not. Talent takes strange twists and the puny little fellow they gave up for dead as a baby may develop into a Gladstone. Caesar was anemic in his youth—probably, and Scipio, as a child, had to hold on tight to the railings when the wind blew.

Swat the fly irrespective of sentimentality. If you swat at him and by some seemingly providential intervention of a swinging door you miss him, you may imagine that Fate has decreed he should be spared. Like a whimsical Caliban you may choose to let this particular fellow survive because you've taken a fancy to him. High purpose should know no sentimentality. Don't cultivate intimacies among even the most engaging flies. Swat one, swat all.

A million and a half fly swatters are being distributed just now throughout the country by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company as a part of the health campaign of their welfare division. Definite realization of the disease danger from flies is evidenced in this annual distribution. A thorough-going fly-swatting campaign at this season of the year is fostered by private and public health agencies. It has many times the value now that it would have later.

Swat the flies! Swat them now.

Winnetka Masons to Be At Wauwautosa, June 7

Saturday, June 7, promises to be a memorable day for members of the Winnetka Masonic lodge when they will be the guests of the Wauwautosa lodge in the Wisconsin city in a day of festivity that will include a baseball game, dinner and fellowship gathering.

Winnetka and Wauwautosa lodges have been intimately associated since the institution of the local unit of the masonic order, the Wisconsin men having been actively interested in the programs attendant upon the institution ceremonies here and the subsequent dedication of the Winnetka Masonic temple which is patterned largely after the one located at Wauwautosa.
