

COUNTRY DAY HAS 11 GRADS

All Classes to Be in Closing Exercises

Commencement week festivities are in progress at North Shore Country Day school. Last Monday was Field Day, beginning with picnic luncheon on the northeast campus, after which the lower school gave several stunts. The most effective of these was the fifth and sixth grade circus, with parade, acrobats, ponies and clowns. The athletic events began at 2 o'clock on the hockey field. The whole school was divided into two sides, the Purples and Whites, each side with a senior captain, and a score was kept, the Whitee, after an exciting climb, winning over the Purples.

On Tuesday, the seniors were entertained at luncheon on the lawn prepared and served by the eighth grade domestic science class. On Wednesday, at 10 o'clock, the lower school held its exercises in the gymnasium, and at 1 o'clock the annual upper school luncheon was held. At this luncheon, which is much anticipated each year, were speeches, several class stunts and songs, and the dedication of the school year book, "The Mirror." Conspicuous among the stunts this year was an especially funny take-off of the "Pirates of Penzance;" while the songs, both serious and humorous, were varied.

Friday, at 3:30 o'clock, the school commencement was held with Harriet Leonard, Mary Ott, Louise Sherman, Elinor Tomlinson, Marcelle Vennema, Eleanor McEwen, Isabelle Fry, Holden Anderson, Larry Burr, Percy Davis and English Malling as graduates. The Rev. James A. Richards of Winnetka gave the address.

The week's activities close this evening with the senior dance to be held in the gymnasium.

Popular with College Men

Young Reinald attended the University of New York from which he later graduated. He was the leader of the Glee club and conductor of the University Heights Choral society for four years. He continued a leader of the Glee club for several years after his graduation and is still the official cheer leader for all athletics at the university. He is a great favorite with college men all over the country, and has done much to introduce music in the University of New York, where before it was an unknown quantity.

During the season of 1915-16 he shared honors with Geraldine Farrar on a concert tour of 36 appearances in all the principal cities of this country. He made his debut in London, where he immediately won great favor, since when he has each year appeared in both London and Paris. This present summer he will make his first tour of Denmark and the Scandinavian countries, the land of his forbears.

Sings Kipling Ballads

Mr. Werrenrath sings largely in English and is one singer whose great art has an equal appeal to both men and women. He is particularly popular in the songs of Kipling, for no one transmits as he does the real fire of the Kipling compositions. His "Danny Deever," "Fuzzy-Wuzzy," "Rolling Down to Rio," "On the Road to Mandalay," and many others are always great favorites. His salt water ballads and songs of the sea like "The Sea Gypsy," "Captain Stratton's Fancy," "O Falmouth is a Fine Town," "The Wreck of the Julie Plante" and "Lone Dog" are equally fine. Probably no artist today sings "Duna" with the beauty that Werrenrath gives it. He is equally at home in the Negro Spirituals. Mr. Werrenrath has composed and published two books of songs, and is an authority on translation of Scandinavian songs.

This Merchant Advises in Verse to Buy at Home

E. B. Taylor, the well known Center street hardware dealer, is doing some unique advertising in Winnetka Talk these days. Everyone of his regular weekly advertisements is a booster for trading in the "home town" and has the unique distinction of being written in "jingle" form.

While few, if any, of the advertisements call attention to Taylor's specific business, they all emphasize the point that it is both pleasant and profitable to "do your shopping in the village" and avoid the inconveniences attendant upon trading away from home.

The advertisements have created quite a furore in the Elm street business section and are winning commendation for "E. B."
