

Winnetka Women Guests at Glencoe Garden Musicale

OLD SOL gave a smile, but not so warm a smile as earlier in the week, and the lake sent an occasional cool puff in approval of the charming garden musicale and tea on Wednesday afternoon at Craigie Lea, the home of Mrs. Andrew MacLeish of Glencoe, given to increase the fund for the new home of the Woman's Library Club of Glencoe. Madame Leon Rothier, an opera singer of gracious personality, and wife of the basso of the Ravinia Opera company, gave a song recital which delighted her hearers. Her voice, a clear soprano, flexible and beautifully cultivated, showed its sympathy, and its clarity of tone, in its higher register especially, in the songs she chose to sing which suited the simple informality of the occasion. Among her selections were the "Aria" from "Butterfly," "If Flowers Could Speak," "Memories" and "Stars." Mrs. Hubert Conover played her accompaniments.

Several Glencoe children gave three group dances and two solo numbers, interspersing their program with that of Madame Rothier. The quaint period costumes of the "Gavotte," the delicate lavender and yellow shades of the "Dresden China Dolls," and the little children in their Grecian costumes of pink satin, with garden flower garlands of pastel shades dancing "In a Greek Garden" blended most artistically with the natural setting of the beautiful, secluded grounds of Craigie Lea.

Several Winnetka women were among the guests who strolled through the grounds at the conclusion of the musicale to absorb the glimpse of the lake's blue offered by a grass walk, edged by irregular beds of old fashioned perennials which included hollyhocks, fox glove, and delphinium, bordered with forget-me-nots, pansies, and English daisies.

A large lustre bowl of delicate yellow, filled with lavender and yellow garden flowers, was the appointment of the punch table at which Mrs. Edward H. Ravenscroft and Mrs. William T. Cresmer presided. An attractive group of college girls, the Misses Gwendolyn Washington, Florence Fox, Jean MacLeish, Ruth Miller, Eleanor West, Gertrude Smith, Virginia Buell, Wilma Cresmer and Ruth Holloway, contributed notes of bright color as they served the guests with punch and cakes.

Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, Mrs. William A. Fox, Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, Mrs. Samuel Pirie Carson, Mrs. John Compton, Mrs. Frank C. Mercer, Mrs. John E. Magnus, Mrs. James Fulton, Mrs. Edward Wilder, Mrs. Sherman Booth, Mrs. Chesley R. Perry, Mrs. Albert O. Olson and Mrs. Harry D. Wiley received the guests.

McCalmon Mends Rapidly, Following an Operation

William McCalmon, the Prouty Annex barber, is reported as doing nicely at St. Francis hospital in Evanston, where he underwent an operation about two weeks ago. At first his condition was considered critical.

Mr. McCalmon suffered a stomach disorder that his physicians at first feared was a cancer, but the operation developed that it was nothing more serious than a minor internal growth, which has been removed. His complete recovery, the doctors say, now is merely a matter of days.

Business With Trees Is Best in Many a Season

"I've fifteen men working on my staff, but can't keep pace with the business," said Thomas J. Lynch, village forester and tree surgeon, this week. "We are on the go from early morning until late at night. I consider this the best season in my experience and I predict that the rush will continue until cold weather, when this business always slackens."

Mr. Lynch says his field of operation extends from Evanston to Lake Forest.
