AT YOUR DISPOSAL

CARD OF THANKS

Gratefully acknowledging the expressions of sincere sympathy and beautiful floral offerings from our many friends, neighbors, the Winnetka Rotary club and the Chamber of Commerce during our sad bereavement. Mrs. E. G. Brochu and Family.

Bob Skelton, Swim Champion de Luxe, Acme of Modesty

Robert D. Skelton, 511 Park avenue, holder of several world's swimming records, who recently won the 200 meter breast stroke event at the Olympic games at Les Tourelles, France, establishing a new world's record in the event, has returned to needlework, fillet, lustre and china. the village and is finding much of his time taken by requests to "tell the folks all about it."

Being a champion appears to be all in the day's work with "Bob," who is a former New Trier student. Pressed for details of his remarkable achievements by members of the Wilmette Rotary club who were his hosts at luncheon this week, the upstanding youth insisted upon talking about everything but himself. He gave the Rotarians a comprehensive idea of the method of conducting an Olympiad, but said nary a word about the phenomenal race that won him the championship and helped to materially boost the averages of the victorious 19LTN46-1tc | American entries.

He declared, in the course of his talk, that, everything considered, the Americans received fair treatment at the Olympic games. Housing conditions and food were not of the best at all times, he said, but the hardy Yankees soon accustomed themselves to the strange surroundings and went about the business of capturing the bulk of the honors just as though they were on their "home grounds."

Bob talked about ten minutes and managed to say absolutely nothing about himself. At the close of the Rotary meeting, however, he was besieged with questions and contrived to "open up," just a bit, to the utter delight of those who held him captive.
