

CALL N. U. MEN TO GRID WORK

N. U. Football Coach Sounds Annual Challenge

Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite at Northwestern university has just mailed letters to sixty candidates for football positions on the Purple varsity team this year to report at Northwestern field September 15 in prime condition. The head coach is a stickler, he admits, for hard work from the opening of the season and woe betide the player, he said today, who reports to him next month carrying surplus flesh or who is handicapped by a shortage of wind.

Coach Thistlethwaite since being at Northwestern has gained fame as being "the silent coach" and this year he aims to keep up that reputation, it seems.

Asked for predictions, he held up his hand and smiled, adding this word:

"Nothing doing on predictions. The slogan is to be this year, 'Take each game as it comes.' Northwestern's schedule is an uphill one from the start and the team therefore will not be pointed for any certain contest but will go after each game in turn. Thus as the season advances we hope to have the squad in good shape for the harder games. Looking over our schedule we find not one soft spot on it. Each and every opponent this fall had a good record last year and any one of the opposing teams is apt to slip one over on us unless we work hard to perfect both defensive and offensive play."

The Purple schedule this year follows: Oct. 4, South Dakota at Evanston; Oct. 11, University of Cincinnati at Evanston; Oct. 18, Purdue at Evanston; Oct. 25, Michigan Aggies, Evanston; Nov. 1, Indiana at Evanston; Nov. 8, University of Michigan at Ann Arbor; Nov. 15, Chicago at Chicago, and Nov. 22, Notre Dame at Evanston.

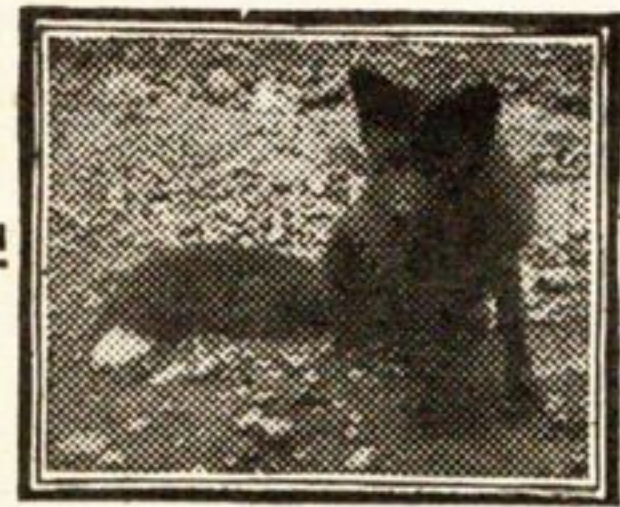

"Bob" Wienecke, of Glencoe, a student in Northwestern University School of Engineering, who plays in the backfield, is captain of this year's Purple squad. He is assisting Coach Thistlethwaite in rounding up the members of the team, now scattered in all parts of country, for the big opening next month.

DON'T "LOOK BACK"

The fleet-footed Paddock of international speed renown recently lost the Olympic race at Paris because he looked around to see what the other fellows were doing. Lots of folks lose the race for health because they look around at the other fellows and permit the bad habits of others to take root in their own lives. Old wives tales to young mothers are seldom beneficial and frequently result in making the way of life stony for the baby. Reliable information on raising babies is readily obtainable from physicians, health officers, and public health nurses.

United States spends more for cigars and cigarettes than for gas for cooking and heating.

A pound of coal will produce as much electric energy as a man doing a full day's work.
