

CHURCH STARTS BUSY PROGRAM

Congregationalists Resume Work in All Branches

Tomorrow marks the beginning of many activities at the Winnetka Congregational church, in which all friends in the village are invited to take part. The morning service of worship begins at 11 o'clock. Rev. James Austin Richards, pastor, will preach on the topic, "Growing Up." The quartet choir will sing the following anthems:

"Jubilate" in E flatFoote
 "The Sabbath Dawns"Abt
 Tenor solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple"Knapp with violin obligato

The church school, under the leadership of Dr. J. W. F. Davies, minister of religious education, has its first session of the autumn, assembling in all departments promptly at 9:30 o'clock for the opening worship, and dismissing at 10:45 o'clock. The kindergarten, under Miss Mildred Maddox, meets in the Assembly room, and is for the younger children. Because of the present lack of space, the same age limit has been adopted as that in force in the public school system. This welcomes all children who are five years of age, or who will become five not later than January, 1925.

The primary department, with Mrs. Carrie B. Prouty as superintendent, has its opening service in Rudolph Matz hall; and all the upper school gathers in the church auditorium.

The men's and women's classes have their sessions at the same hour.

"This school of the church is doing serious and valuable work in religious education," it is explained. "Many men and women are giving large and regular service; the courses are graded carefully to fit the varying ages of the students. The church has the vision of a school in which the highest type of character is to be developed, and it invites parents to cooperate in every way to achieve this goal."

The Young People's society plans another "first" meeting for tomorrow, as it is having a supper at 6:30 o'clock in the Assembly room. This is for all young folks of the church and the village of high school age. All those who would like to come to this first meeting are invited to telephone the church office, or notify the committee, Winnetka 1466. The new officers are enthusiastic in their ideas for the fall and winter Sunday evenings of the club.

Indian Hill Net Stars in Lively Finals Play

The champions for the year at the Indian Hill club are E. Fulton, boys' junior singles; Eleanor Sherman, girls' racquet singles; Jean Armstrong, girls' racquet welders; Jack Routh, boys' ball chasers; Jane Littell, girls' ball chasers; Francis Stanton and William McEwen, racquet welders doubles; Mrs. G. B. Massey, women's singles. These were decided after a week's play which showed some of the best games of the year.

Each division had several rounds of play before the finals to decide the club championships. In most of the games the matches were so well played and the players so evenly matched that the outcome was not certain until the last ball was out of play.

These games attracted one of the largest entry lists at the Indian Hill club this year.

BORN, A HEAVY-WEIGHT

In addition to claiming the distinction of having the finest set of parents in this world of ours, young Edward Roland Pierce, a recent acquisition at the Earl F. Pierce household at 603 Provident avenue, also wants to let everybody in on the fact that he weighed just 14 pounds and 10 and one-half ounces at birth. Edward Roland arrived on Sunday, August 31.

MOTHER SERIOUSLY ILL

Thomas J. Lynch, village forester, returned from Mineola, New York, Wednesday, where he went last Thursday night in response to word that his mother was seriously ill. Mr. Lynch returned to attend to some necessary business and has been waiting for another call to go to New York.
