

The rooms of The Orrington are as comfortable and attractive as a private home. The typical living room above is indicative of the elegance of the accommodations

A SUN PARLOR—Attractive reed furniture, gay colored draperies and a comfortable chaise lounge for your siesta

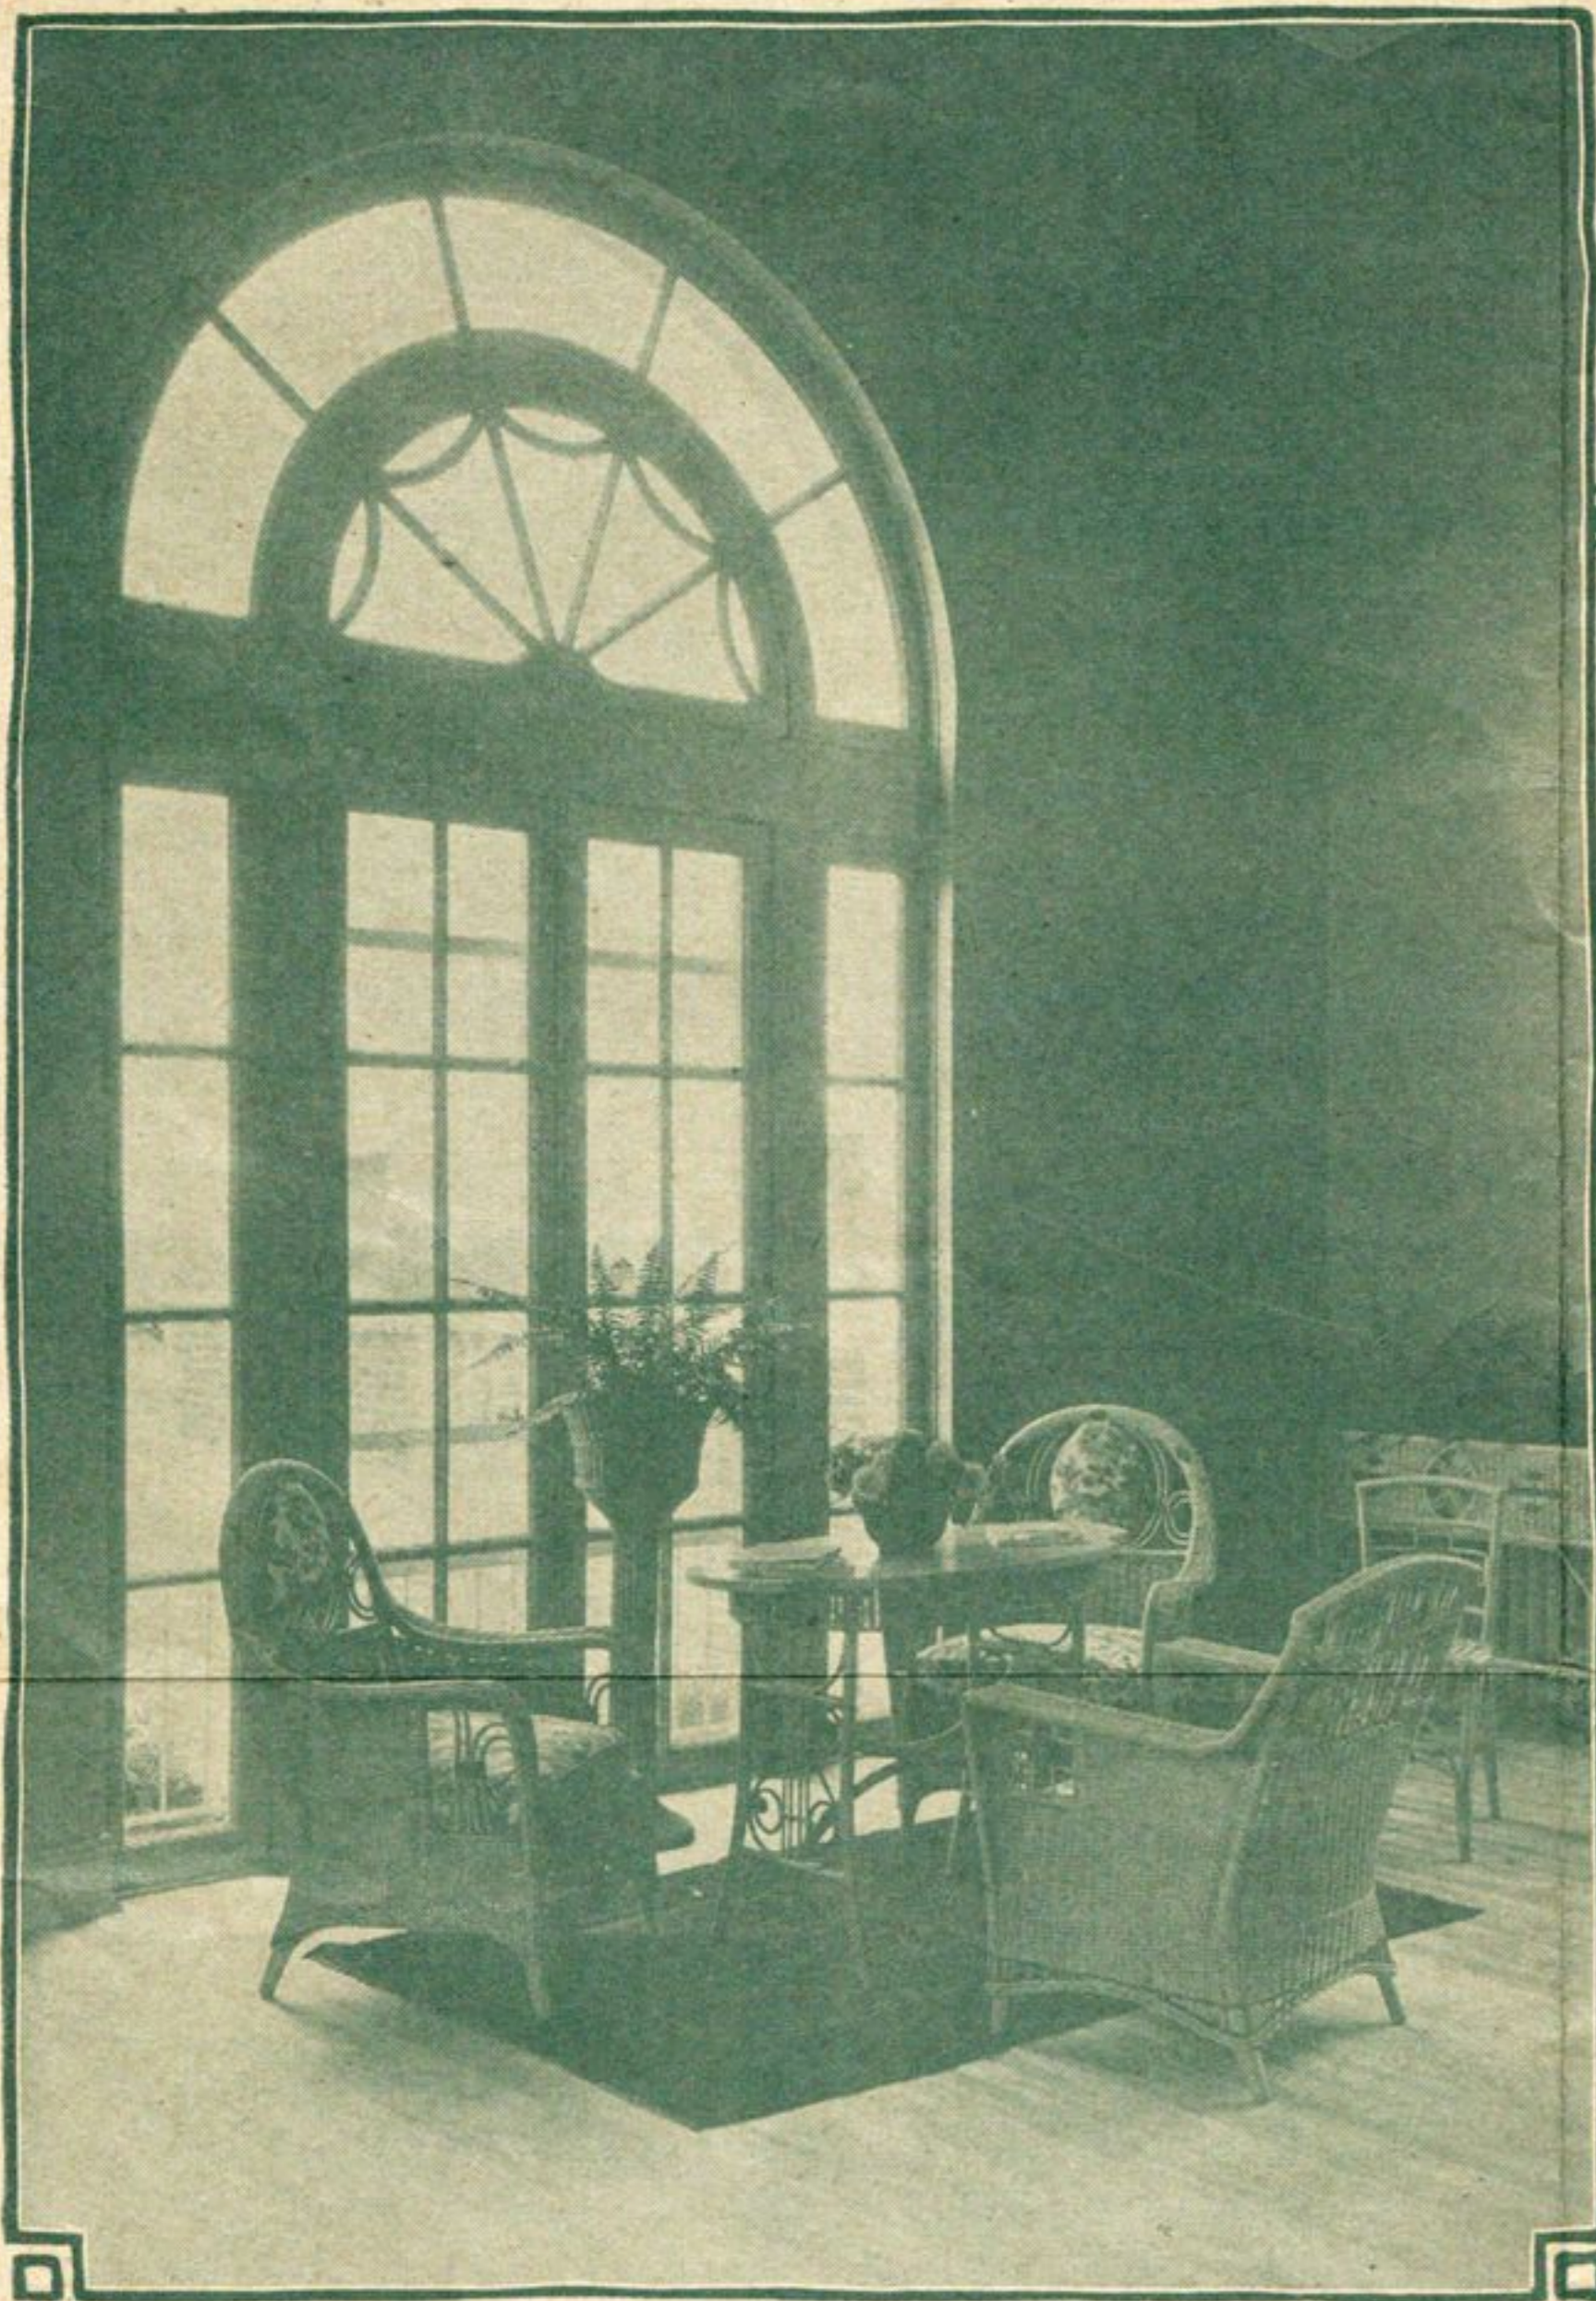

Mirror doors conceal the comfortable wall beds by day, permitting even one room to be furnished as a sitting room and providing extra sleeping facilities in suites

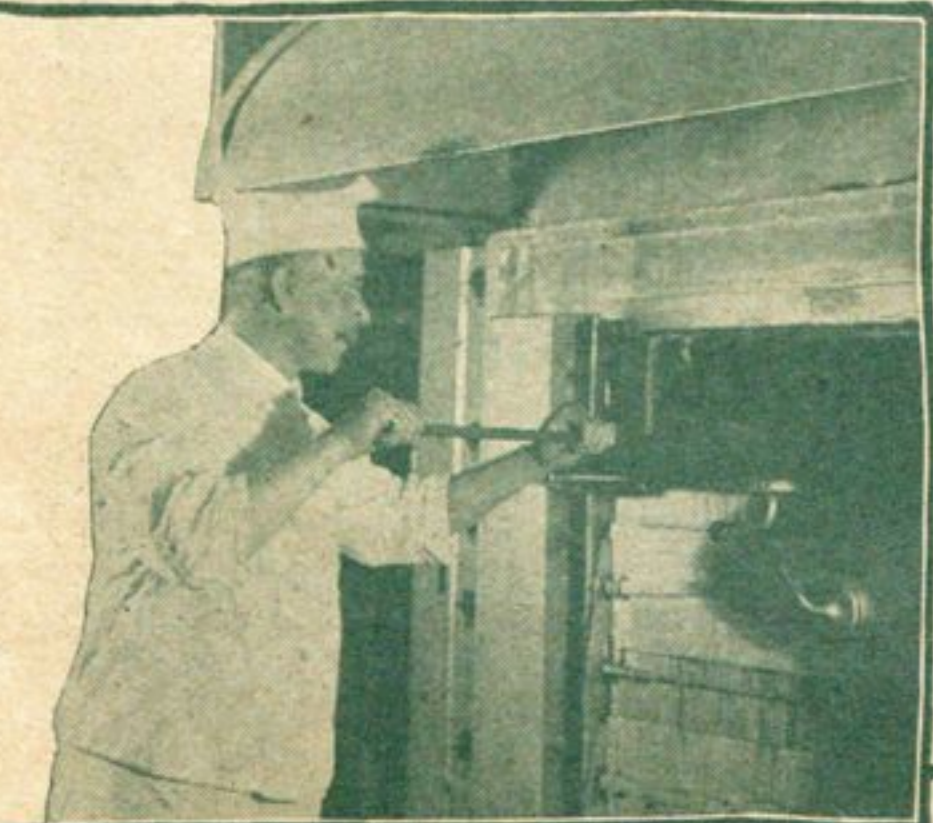

THE CHAMBERMAID—who makes your bed and keeps your Orrington home neat, clean and tidy always. You will find her both capable and courteous

SUNDAY EVENING—Mother is writing a letter to cousin Jane, father is catching up on his reading, while little Mary Elizabeth rocks her favorite doll to sleep

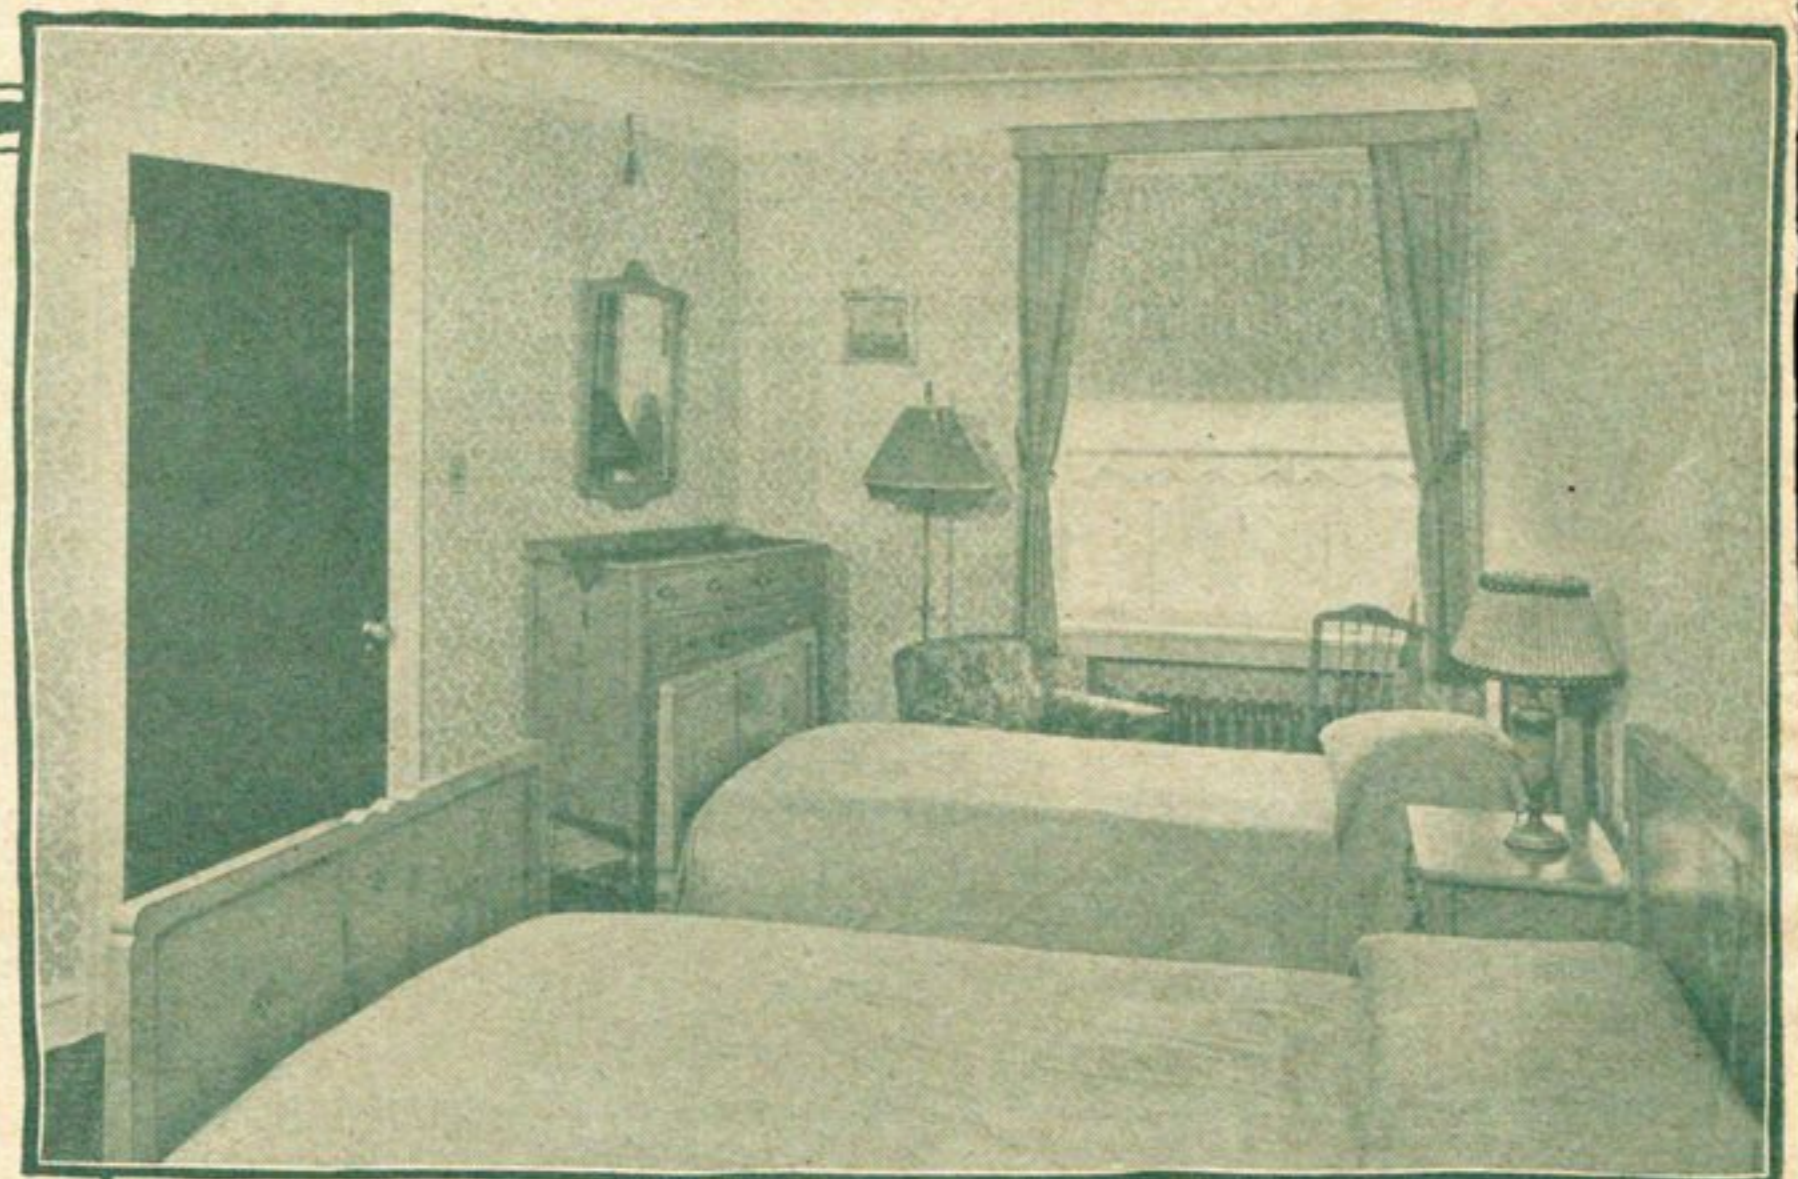

Above, a cozy corner of the Solarium alcove of the Roof Garden Ballroom. Comfortable reed furniture, bright sunshine and the wonderful view make these corners most pleasant

Left—The jolly baker who turns out delicious bread, rolls and pastries with the aid of modern electric ovens

BOB THE BELL BOY—This time it's a new chapeau for madame. Clean-cut fellows ever at your service for this, that and every favor they can do to add to your ease and comfort at The Orrington

YOUR BEDROOM—Box springs, curled hair mattresses, snow white sheets, downy pillows and soft, warm blankets—pretty lamps and the latest enameled and decorated furniture. You will sleep like a top and be proud always to show your chamber at The Orrington
