SECURE NOTED PIANIST TO DEDICATE STEINWAY

Residents of Winnetka are invited to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Kuppenheimer at a concert to be given at the Skokie school, Monday evening, October 13, in dedication of the Steinway concert grand piano recently presented by them to the school for the Jane Kuppenheimer Memorial hall.

Admission to the recital is complimentary. Those desiring to attend should make application in person or by phone to Skokie school, Winnetka 850.

This recital is to be given by Gita Gradova, a pianist of extraordinary technical and interpretative powers, ranked by the well-known periodical, The Nation, as the "foremost woman pianist now before the public." The New York Tribune speaks of her talent as "far beyond the measure displayed by the average, a combination of technique and expressive power that captured and held the interest." The New York American rates Miss Gradova as a "player of exceptional gifts, consisting of strongly marked interpretative talent, splendidly virile attack, accurate technical mastery, and a sensitive touch and soulful tone."

The piano which Miss Gradova will use is an instrument representing the best material and highest skill of the Steinway Piano company, it is explained.

VIOLATES QUARANTINE

August Dernek, a gateman at a Winnetka railroad crossing, was arrested by Winnetka police this week on a charge of violating the quarantine law. He was turned over to North Chicago officials.

Lawrence A. Janney Will Lead Sunday Men's Class

Lawrence A. Janney, a well known resident of the village and assistant leader of the Sunday Morning Men's class, of the Congregational church, will be the speaker at the class discussion in Community House Sunday morning, October 5, at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Janney will discuss the specific subject, "God, the Father," in relation to its bearing upon the general theme, "How Shall We Think of God?" which is occupying the attention of the class over a period of several Sundays.

Mr. Janney is one of the most popular of the speakers at Men's class sessions, possessing the faculty of presenting his subject in a most comprehensive and understandable manner. His appearance before the class this Sunday is expected to have the effect of encouraging an unusually large attendance.

The class attendance has been constantly increasing since the beginning of the new season of discussions several weeks ago. Every man in Winnetka is invited to attend the sessions and enter into the membership of the class. The discussions are non-sectarian in character.
