

'BEUCAIRE' ON C. H. FILM LIST

Elaborate Drama to Be Seen Here Soon

"If the word 'super-production' had not been so sadly abused and misused, one would be sorely tempted to apply it to Rudolph Valentino's latest Paramount picture, 'Monsieur Beaucaire,' which is due at the Community House, Friday and Saturday, October 17 and 18," declares Burton H. Atwood, Jr., director of Community House pictures.

"If ever a picture deserved superlatives it surely is this screenplay, which Forrester Halsey adapted from Booth Tarkington's gloriously human story and which reaches the silver sheet via the directorial guidance of Sidney Olcott," continues Mr. Atwood.

"Imagine the love interest of 'The Sheik,' the romantic coloring of 'Blood and Sand' and the spectacle of 'The Four Horsemen' combined in one photoplay and you begin to understand why 'Monsieur Beaucaire' is a photodrama of amazing beauty and power. To the students of history it will be an inspiration; to the schoolboy it will be an education, and to the blasé film fan it will be a revelation. All the pomp and magnificence of the court of Louis XV, notorious for its love affairs, its intrigue, honor and vice! The scheming Mme Pompadour, the dissolute King, the crafty Richelieu—they live once more!

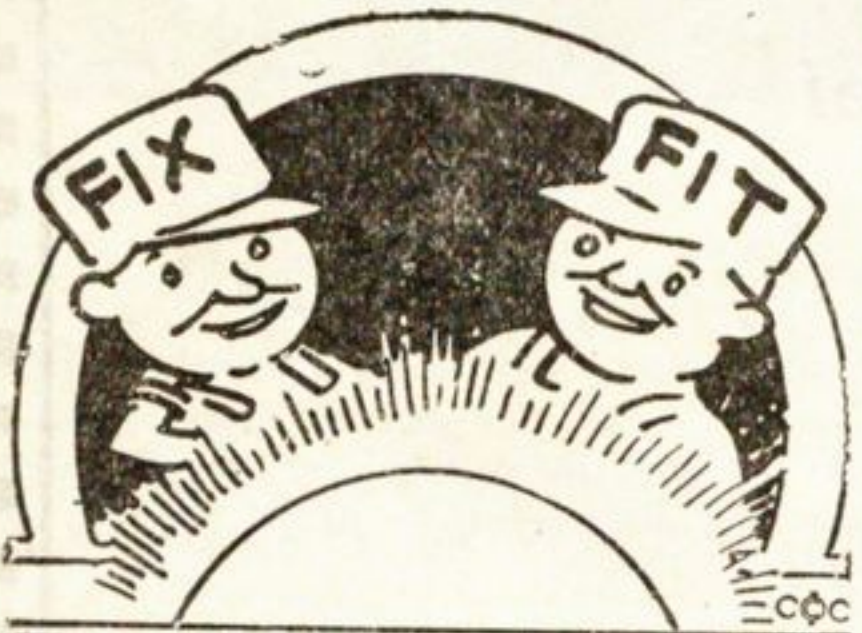

"And there isn't a man or woman, who will fail to sympathize and thrill with the merry, dashing Duke de Chartres with all his amours and all his fights! Verily, it is a role that only Valentino can play to perfection!

"As for the supporting cast, it may well be set up as a standard of excellence, including as it does, Bebe Daniels, Lois Wilson, Doris Kenyon, Lowell Sherman, Ian Maclaren, John Davidson, Paulette Duval and many, many others famous on stage and screen.

"Film fans, you who rave about the great pictures you have seen, see 'Monsieur Beaucaire' and you will have something to brag about!

'LOCATING GOD' IS SUBJECT OF SERMON

Rev. James Austin Richards, pastor of the Winnetka Congregational church, will preach tomorrow morning on the topic, "Locating God." The service of worship begins at 11 o'clock, and not only members of the church and parish, but any interested friends in the village are cordially invited to be present.

At the same hour, in Rudolph Matz hall, Dr. J. W. F. Davies will conduct a junior service of worship, for children below high school age; and the youngest children may be left in charge of the Chancel Guild, in the assembly room.

The Church school, in all its departments, has its session from 9:30 to 10:45 o'clock, and includes classes for all ages, from the four-year-olds in the kindergarten up to classes for men and women. The Women's Bible class began its new course last Sunday with enthusiasm. This is a study of the life of Christ, with attractive textbooks, and with Rev. Ralph Morphet as leader for the month of October. Mrs. Douglas Smith is membership chairman, and will be glad to hear of any who will welcome this opportunity to spend the Sunday morning hour in study, it is explained.

Evening appointments include the Sunday Evening club, in the Camp Fire room, at 6:30 o'clock and the Young People's club, for high school boys and girls, at 7 o'clock in the Neighborhood room. The leader of the latter groups will be Robert P. Ely.

Chamber Concert Tickets Are Now Nearly All Sold

The first concert of the series to be given under the auspices of the North Shore Chamber Music association will take place on Sunday afternoon, October 26, at 4 o'clock in the Kenilworth assembly hall. The artists on this occasion will be the Gordon string quartet assisted by Howard Wells, pianist. The members of this quartet are Jacques Gordon, first violin, concertmeister of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Henry Selinger, second violin, Clarence Evans, viola, and Alfred Wallenstein, cello, first cellist of the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

According to the committee on arrangements the tickets for the four concerts in the series are selling rapidly, only a limited number now being available. The above-mentioned committee consists of Mrs. Albert O. Olson and Mrs. Maurice F. Miller for Glencoe; Mrs. P. B. Kohlsaat and Dr.

Harrison Mettler for Winnetka; Mrs. R. E. Pattison Kline and Howard Wells for Wilmette; Mrs. Percy Eckhart, Miss Helen Sears, and Mrs. A. B. Spach for Kenilworth; Mrs. Homer E. Cotton for New Trier high school; William H. Barnes and Edward D. Wheeler for Evanston. Orders for tickets should be sent to the treasurer, Walter Marx, 522 Essex road, Kenilworth.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, Winnetka Talk:
The Talk deserves the hearty commendation of everyone for publishing the Reverend Gerhardt's sermon on Defense day, a sermon which I have just had the pleasure of reading. Does it not seem un-American that in a matter as important as the development of public sentiment towards our national military policy we find few newspapers and practically no public speakers with courage to present the views of those who do not agree that the Defense day policy expresses true Americanism.

Very truly yours,
Charles A. Kinney.

Concern

Did it ever occur to you that in all probability, a merchant unacquainted with you, is only interested in making a present sale, that he figures the chances are against him ever seeing you again? You purchase from him. May be you are satisfied and may be you are not. Be that as it may, do you imagine that he is in any way concerned about your well being? Can you say this of your home merchant? No; for he is concerned about you. He goes out of his way to please you. He is interested in your prosperity. He is interested in the health of you and your family. He is personally concerned about everything connected with you. He wants you to be happy. There are advantages in Trading at Home.
