

Everybody Feels
Pretty Fine Over
Happy's Good Luck

"I want to be happy,
But I won't be happy,
'Til I make you happy, too!"

Lots of happy folks on Foxdale avenue, especially in the vicinity of the Eldorado railroad crossing where Harold "Happy" Kent, colored, officiates as gateman!

"Happy," as he is familiarly known in a score or more of nearby households, attends strictly to business at the crossing and always looks after the little tots and elderly ladies. After working hours he finds time, on occasion, to do odds and ends in the neighborhood, thereby augmenting the family exchequer and gaining a reputation for being about the most carefree and happy person under the sun.

Recently, however, the smile faded from "Happy's" customarily gleaming countenance. Folks in the neighborhood couldn't fathom the sudden change and an investigation was instituted with the result that it was learned "Happy's" wife and daughter were ill, so ill, in fact, that the family exchequer had suffered to the point of utter depletion.

The word was passed through the neighborhood and one day "Happy" became the recipient of a nice little "stake" on which to get back on his feet.

Matters have mended in the Kent household and only the other day the Foxdale avenue housewives received the accompanying letter of thanks and appreciation from the elated "Happy":

Eldorado Avenue,
Winnetka, Ill.

"Harold K. Flagman at the time for the n. w. railroad give thanks for the help that you all give to me. I Kant tell how much that i preshate it. it is very much preshated and i thank one and all of the good Ladys and friends of Foxdale ave. for help me when in hard luck. it could not have Ben a time that you could hit that Better i sure do thank you all and it will never be forgotten i am glad that you all seem to Be as happy as i am, thank to all then.
Happy Kent. Eldorado Ave."

Drunken Drivers Placed In Class With Gun Toters

State laws should provide heavier penalties for reckless drivers, especially for those who drive while intoxicated, stated Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, Winnetka trustee at the Thursday session of the Illinois Municipal league held at the American Exposition Palace, where the Illinois-products exposition is taking place.

Mrs. Langworthy believes that an intoxicated person driving an automobile is as dangerous as one "who goes down the street firing off a gun."

Other speakers on the program during the meeting Thursday and Friday, talked on city betterment.

The league convention is being attended by 150 mayors and village managers from the State of Illinois. Among the north shore representatives attending the convention were Village Manager F. L. Streed of Kenilworth, Mrs. B. F. Langworthy of Winnetka and Village Manager W. H. Sherer of Glencoe.

Sunday Evening Club to Meet Tomorrow at 6:30
By J. A. H.

Members and friends of the Winnetka Sunday Evening club are asked to bear in mind that the club meets Sunday, October 19.

At the first meeting, October 5, it was announced that, hereafter, the club would meet on alternate Sundays.

Further business of the day was to elect two new officers to fill vacancies left by resignations. Miss Florence Canning was elected vice president and Miss Eleanor Beard was chosen secretary.

The program committee has given out no schedule and it is probable that most of the programs will be kept secret until meeting time. If they are as good as last year we will be glad to trust to the committee.

Don't forget then—6:30 in the Camp Fire room at Community House—and bring your friends.

Chamber of Commerce to Launch Membership Drive

William P. Rapp was appointed to fill the vacancy on the legislative committee caused by the death of E. G. Brochu. Glenn Spalding was chosen to fill the vacancy on the membership committee caused by the death of Edward Parr. P. A. Bradford was also appointed on the membership committee.
