

Second Chamber Recital To Be Given December 7

The second recital of chamber music will be given at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, December 7, in the assembly hall at Kenilworth. The artists on this occasion will be the Muenzer Trio, composed of Hans Muenzer, violinist, Hans Koelber, 'cellist, and Rudolph Wagner, pianist.

Concerning this trio it was said by Glenn Dillard Gunn, well-known music critic, formerly on the Chicago Tribune: "They combined the spirit and enthusiasm of youth with the insight and judgment of maturity." And Karleton Hacknett of the Chicago Evening Post reviewed them as a "genuine chamber music organization, a trio of real quality." Hans Muenzer will be recalled by many as the musician who, acting as concertmaster of the Symphony Players of Chicago in a recent concert at New Trier hall, gave such eminent satisfaction not only because of his ability but particularly because of the genuine interest and enthusiasm which he manifested.

At this December 7 recital the Muenzer Trio will play a G-major trio by Mozart and a trio by Enrico Bossi. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Noted Music Authority Speaks at High School

Dr. Charles D. Isaacson, noted musical authority and music critic, addressed New Trier Township high school students at assembly last Monday morning on "Art." He laid particular emphasis upon music and opera. And concluded his address with the history and story of Verdi's "Aida."

Dr. Isaacson held the attention of his audience closely. According to Cyrus Daniel, instructor in music at New Trier, the speech was one of the best and most interesting talks heard at that school in some time.

Not a Single Burglary In Winnetka Last Month

Burglars departed from traditional custom by giving Winnetka a wide berth during the month of October, according to the monthly report submitted by Chief of Police W. M. Peterson. In October of last year nine house-breakings were reported.

Village officials and citizens of Winnetka have commended the police department for the excellent protection given during the month.
