

TWO PLAYS FOR US NEXT WEEK

Community Dramatists Appear January 14-15

BY M. T. H.

A study in contrasts will greet the playgoers who on the evenings of January 14 and 15, at Community House, view the performance of Sutro's, "A Marriage Has Been Arranged," and Tchekoff's, "A Marriage Proposal." These two exceedingly clever plays are to be presented by the Winnetka Community Players.

The subtlety, dignity and repression of the English play is in sharp contrast to the naive, informality and volubility of the Russian. These opposing characteristics so typical of the different peoples portrayed are brought out by authors thoroughly familiar with the types they reproduce. Alfred Sutro, one of the cleverest of modern English playwrights, pictures the true English woman in Lady Aline. Everyone is expecting the announcement of her ladyship's engagement to an American millionaire. Her mother arranges for the couple to be alone in a room during a ball where Lady Aline first concludes her suitor is the most vulgar parvenu she has ever met. She refuses point blank to marry him and later realizes how greatly she has misjudged him. This brings the play to a surprising conclusion.

Depicts Russian Type

Anton Tchekoff is a master of contemporary Russian Literature and possesses great insight into the character of his people. In this play "A Marriage Proposal" he appears to be asking his audience to cast off restraint and laugh with him at the stupidity and simplicity, as well as the good heartedness of the people he knew so well.

The plays have been cast with great care and as a result the portrayals should bring out with much finesse, the author's clever points. Mrs. Lloyd Faxon will direct Sutro's play and the cast although only a "Twosome" is well chosen. Mrs. Taliaferro Milton plays Lady Aline and opposite her is Mr. Godfrey H. Atkin.

Excellent Cast

"A Marriage Proposal" will be directed by Mrs. J. P. Yoder and the cast consists of Carleton W. Washburne, Milton Higgins and Mrs. Ryonson Gates. The Technical Staff is composed of Miss Olive Grover, Mrs. Wm. Van Horne, Mr. John Marshall, Mr. Albourne B. Long and Mr. Alfred Freeman.

Lighting effects will be of interest as the cyclorama is to be used in conjunction with new and special stage lighting equipment but recently provided at Community House. Music will be in charge of Mrs. Arthur Dean. The performance on the evening of January 14 will be for members only, while the general public is invited for the evening of January 15, at which time a small admission fee will be charged.

Kathleen Air and Katherine Hedglin

(of the Columbia School of Music)

ANNOUNCES the starting of class lessons in sight reading for piano training which develops the ability to read pieces and song accompaniment at sight, also Duet playing which is the preparation for ensemble playing. This course will include ear training and practical use of simple chord combination to be used for song accompaniment and the selection of chords to fit well known melodies.

This work is a preparation for more serious study as class lessons could not take the place of private instruction as more time is necessary for the full development of the individual pupil. It is, however, an excellent substitute for those who do not wish, or have not the time for more serious study, but who have a desire to know something about music and the piano. Much less time is required and in having classes we can offer this work at very reasonable rates.

LEE SAYS:

A FELLOW was telling US THE other day ABOUT a man he knew WHO went to Chicago LAST spring and for FIVE days dodged TRAINS and trucks and STREET cars, and then JUST as he arrived HOME a neighbor ran INTO him with a WHEELBARROW and BROKE his leg, which GOES to show that WE CAN never be CERTAIN about our SAFETY—but it is MIGHTY nice, we think, TO KNOW that you can BE absolutely sure OF THE quality of LEE'S Cough Syrup because IT HAS been proved SO OFTEN right here IN Winnetka that THERE can no longer BE any doubt about it.
