

MAY FESTIVAL PROGRAM OUT

Great Music Event to Again Bring Notable Opera Artists to North Shore

LUTKIN IS CONDUCTOR

Complete Program Announced This Week

The first announcement of the North Shore Music festival, set for May 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30 at Patten gymnasium, Northwestern university, is published, promising the following attractions: Performances of Haydn's "Creation" and Horatio Parker's "St. Christopher" by the festival and grand chorus of 1,000 voices, under Peter Lutkin's direction; two artists' nights; a young people's matinee performance of "Martha," and the orchestral composition contest for the $1,000 prize, with Percy Grainger, Charles M. Loeffler and Richard Hageman as judges.

The festival is arranged annually by the following officers: Charles W. Spofford, president; Alexander O. Mason, James F. Oates and Sewell L. Avery, vice presidents; Walter B. Smith, secretary; John Hale Hilton, treasurer, and Carl D. Kinsey, business manager.

Lutkin Leads Conductor

Peter Christian Lutkin, musical director, heads the list of conductors for the various performances. Frederick Stock will direct his Chicago Symphony orchestra, and others on the list are Osborne McConathy, associate conductor; Charles M. Loeffler and Percy Grainger, composers and guest-conductors.

The ensemble for the week will include the festival chorus of 600 voices; the grand chorus of 1,000, for the "Creation" concert; a children's chorus of 1,500 voices, the A Cappella choir and the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Soloists for the six concerts on the schedule will be:

NEW VOLUME IS AID TO SPEECH

Scouts Fake Cures for Stammerers

A new book on the subject of stuttering and stammering has been added to the collection of information on the shelves of the Winnetka Public Library. The new work is entitled "Stammering, Its Cause and Cure." It was written by Benjamin Nathaniel Bogue, a recognized authority on the subject of stammering and author of several volumes dealing with imperfections of speech.

Until he was 20 years of age, Mr. Bogue was himself afflicted with stammering. He relates in his latest book some of the experiences of his early life when inability to talk without stuttering, handicapped his efforts to gain a foothold in the world of business.

The author's cure of himself of the stammering affliction, after years devoted to scientific study of the human voice and the causes of impeded speech, is told in the new book. Since he overcame his own affliction, Mr. Bogue has devoted his life to the study of stammering and its cure. The facts related in the book just received by the Public Library are based upon his personal contact with 20,000 stammerers and information gained through correspondence with approximately 190,000 others similarly afflicted who have sought his advice during the 24 years he has been the head of the Bogue Institute for Stammerers in Indianapolis.

The Bogue book discusses the harassing effect of stammering upon the mind and body of a child and of grown-up stammerers. It contains advice for the guidance of stammering children, warning them against patronizing unscientific and "fake" advertisers of cures for the affliction.

DIRECTS IN 3 LANGUAGES

Victor Seastrom not only can direct pictures, but he can do it in three languages. First, he directed them in his own country, Sweden. Then he came to Hollywood, and directed them in Hollywoodese. And then, in "He Who Gets Slapped," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, he had to direct in French as well, for Paulette Goddard, one of the members of the cast, could speak only a few words in English.

Heart Attack Fatal to Clarence Worthington

Funeral services for Clarence D. Worthington, a former resident of Wilmette, were held Monday afternoon of this week at St. Elisabeth's church, Glencoe.

Mr. Worthington passed away Friday, February 13, at the Mayo Brothers clinic at Rochester, Minn., the cause of death being heart failure.

He is survived by his widow and two children, Delwyn and Mary.

Mr. Worthington was sales manager for the Addressograph company. He was until a few years ago, a well known resident of Wilmette and prominent in local Masonic circles. He was a member of the Wilmette lodge of Masons, Chicago commandery of Knights Templar, the Oriental consistory, Medinah temple, Illinois Athletic club, and Skokie Country club.

WORLD RECORD TEAM IN ILLINOIS RELAY

Georgetown university's two-mile relay team, which recently set a new world's record of 7:45 for the two-mile relay, will be a certain starter in the University of Illinois relays on Saturday night, February 28. The Washington, D. C. outfit will meet the pick of the Middle-West in the race.

University of Pennsylvania, Penn State college, headed by Alan Helffrich, one of the greatest runners of today, and Springfield college, Mass., are other eastern squads which will travel to Urbana to compete in the classic competition. Michigan, Chicago, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, Nebraska and other leading Middle-Western universities will enter athletes. All in all, the Illini expect that more than 400 men will toe the mark in the big games.

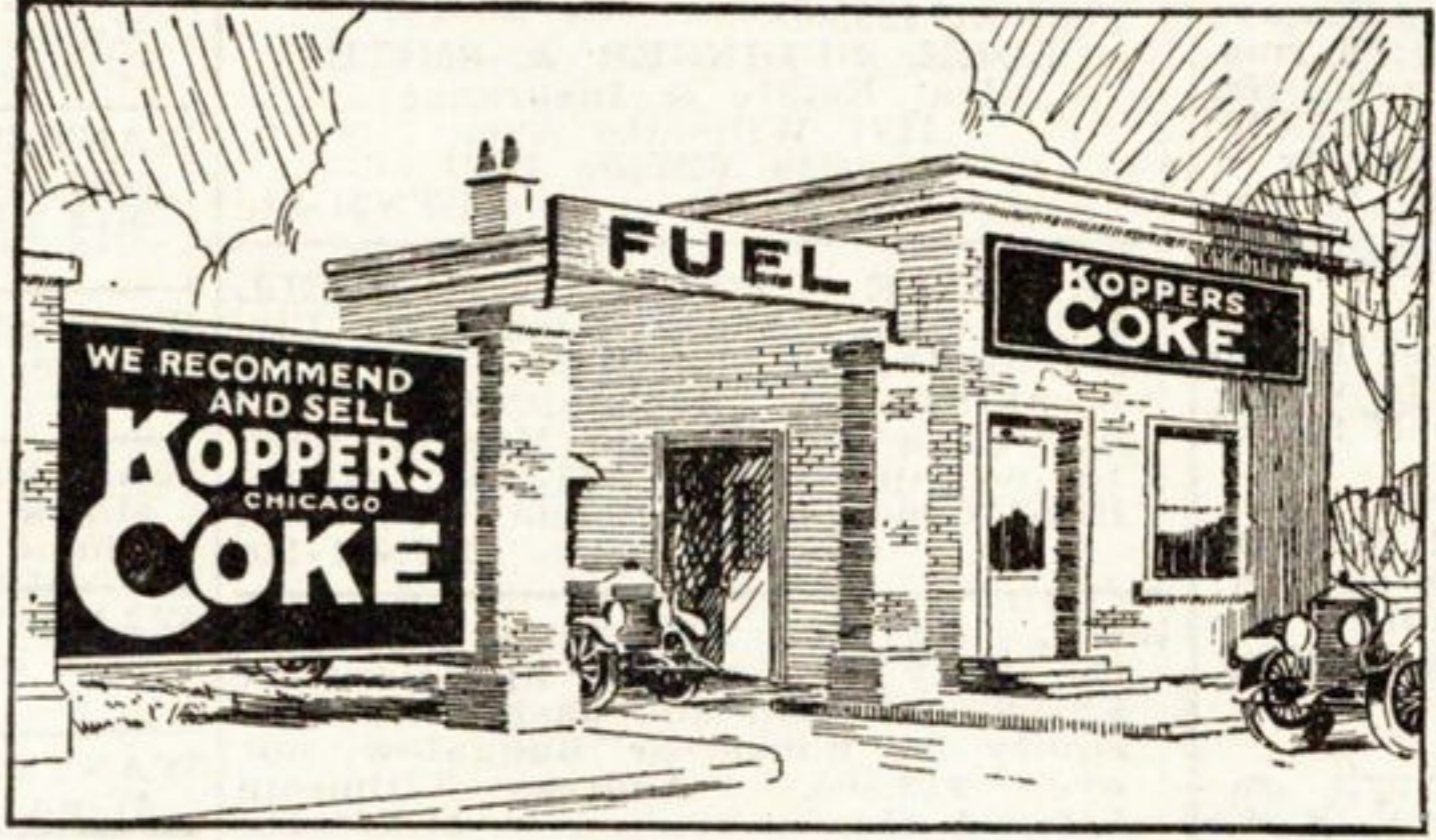

The relays will be held in the big armory where spectators sit in warmth and comfort. The famous Illinois band of more than 100 pieces will play during the races. To speed up the events the Illini have arranged to have all preliminary heats in the afternoon. At this time also the all-round championship will be run off. This means that the main meet at night will be fast and that there will not be the dragging which sometimes spoils track meets.

Illinois' armory will accommodate more than 5,000 spectators and a crowd of this proportion is indicated by the advance sale. The Illini managers, however, expect that there will be seats available even at the last minute.
