

RICHARDS BACK IN HIS PULPIT

Congregational Pastor Recovers from Illness

Rev. James Austin Richards, pastor of the Winnetka Congregational church, is recovering from his recent illness, and plans to conduct both services of worship at the church this Sunday. The subject of the morning sermon is "The Nearer Summons."

The music by the trio, Mrs. Slade, Mr. Gash and Mr. Johansen, will be two anthems: Rossini's "Lord, we Praise Thy Holy Name," and Pfeuffer's "How Beautiful are Thy Dwellings." Mrs. Brewer's prelude, will be an Adagio, by Beethoven, and Mr. Smith's organ postlude, Rogers' "Magnificat."

Mr. Richards' evening sermon is on the question, "How Think of Prayer?" a devotional thought for the Lenten call to worship. This subject has been uppermost in several group meetings lately; and the pastor's thought will be eagerly sought by all who have had certain questions unanswered. Mrs. Slade will be the evening soloist, and will sing Bach's contralto cantata, "Strike, thou hour so long expected," and an offertory solo, "At the cry of the first bird," by David Guion.

The Young People's club invites all of high school age to come to a meeting at 6:45 o'clock, to talk of the question, "The Master's method of winning followers." Dorothy Dickinson will be the leader.

On Wednesday evening Mr. Richards will conduct the Lenten mid-week service. He will group the several topics on the modern use of the Bible, as announced before, and talk especially about "Duplicating the Bible." Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick's book is being read by many, and may be obtained at the church office by those who will join in this devotional study.

E. V. O'Brien, who attends Notre Dame university, is spending a short vacation at his home, 735 Foxdale avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Jules Garmen, 1018 Ash street, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son on March 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Wells of 110 Church road left this week for Miami.

Watts O. Pye Will Give Talk at Matz Hall

Watts O. Pye:—people are beginning to ask, "Who is this man scheduled to speak next Wednesday at the luncheon given by the Woman's society of the Congregational church in Matz hall?" His mailing address is Fenchow, Shansi, China; his place of business is all that northwest part of China that is called Shansi and Shensi, just south of the borderline of Mongolia. He is probably better known there to thousands of Chinese than to an equal number of his own countrymen in America.

From a Minnesota home, through Carleton and Oberlin colleges, he went to China 17 years ago to teach a little primary school in some small rooms that still showed the effects of the Boxer fury of those years. Hardly a Christian had these mobs left, and not a teacher or a church. What of that little school, and where are those school boys now? Upon the ruins of Boxer days have grown up not only primary schools, but universities with large faculties, and graduates working all over the world, studying in other countries, and becoming leaders everywhere. Some of them are doctors, doing far more surgery than an American physician does. And last year the Chinese themselves gave more money to the hospital in Fenchow than was used for all the American mission work in all China in the first two years there.

Mr. Pye is the kind of human who cannot resist the challenge of the unattained! And he has the statesman's mind to plan in terms of a large scheme that will stretch many years ahead. At the same time he thinks in the terms of today. Where he sees a postoffice is needed in a small town, he says so; and as he has travelled the country up and down for years and knows all the leading centers and roads, his recommendation is usually followed by the governor. He knows he cannot do all the work, so he picks out for training many natives who become the leaders in his plans for conquest. At the same time he is a friend to everybody, and "Chinamen come to consult him about everything, from the high price of beans to the paying of the unjust temple tax."

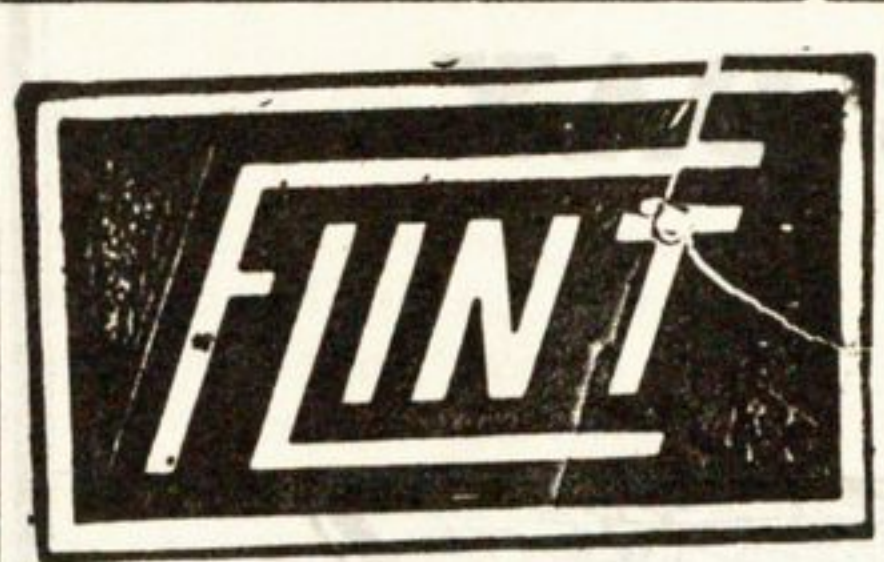

To see and hear this man will be an education; and after the address there will be time to meet him for informal conversation. The morning will be a sort of preparatory course in Chinese lore. Mrs. L. Harrison Mettler will review Paul Hutchinson's book, "China's Real Revolution," which is one of the latest and best books about that wonderful country, Mrs. Ayres Boal will lead the meeting, and Mrs. Guy Hansel will sing.

FOR TEN YEARS—DEPENDABLE

Exceptional dependability has been a characteristic of Dodge Brothers Motor Car since the day the first of these sturdy cars was marketed.

Not once in a decade has it failed to uphold and enhance its reputation for faithful performance.

The reason for its consistent goodness and continued betterment points directly back to the ideals of the founders.

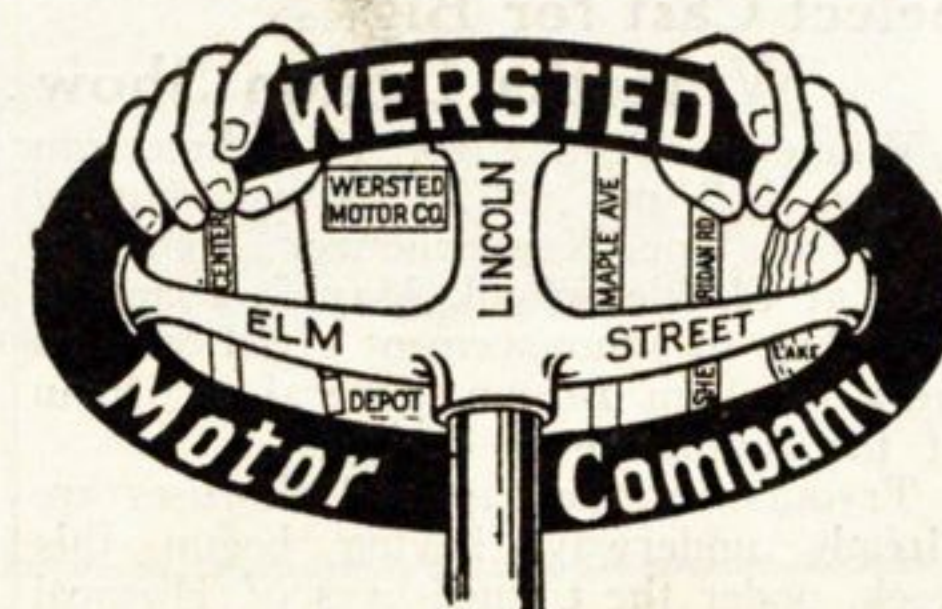

Instead of fluctuating between an endless series of annual models, they determined to concentrate on the perfection of a single chassis.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car today is the embodiment of that ideal—an ideal that will endure as long as the institution itself.
