

URGES HELP IN LEGION DRIVE

Sprague Sounds Call for Contributions

Colonel A. A. Sprague, whose vigorous fight for disabled veterans three years ago resulted in the present reforms in the United States Veterans' bureau, has issued the following statement urging support of the American Legion Endowment fund of which President Calvin Coolidge is honorary chairman:

"North shore citizens are asked to invest in the American Legion. The campaign to raise $400,000 in Chicago and vicinity to support the work the Legion is doing for the disabled and for the widows and orphans is now under way.

"This is a safe investment. The American Legion has already proven its ability and right to represent service men. Its members are still young. The great majority are not yet recovered in business. Many have not yet recovered from their war service. They will be the backbone of American Life for a generation. If anyone can be trusted, they can be.

"This is a wise investment. No one knows as well as they the real problems of those who suffered from the War. No one else is so capable of selecting the worthy from the spurious. This is the best guarantee that money given will be well spent and will only accomplish real good. The Legion is organized to do this and has done much already.

"This is a necessary investment. There are countless thousands of men, women and little children who deserve and need the wise and practical help of the American Legion. This fund will make it possible for them to continue what they have begun and to perform many services which they have been unable to do because of lack of funds.

"Many citizens who have been wanting to contribute to some memorial fund which would be of practical and permanent benefit will find their opportunity here.

"Chicago and its suburbs can and will do their share."

Dames and Damsels of

Domecon Have a Dinner

The New Trier Domecon club held a dinner last Wednesday evening in the school mess hall at 6 o'clock. All the girls' mothers were invited. The decorations were green and yellow, carrying out the St. Patrick's Day idea.

Miss Adelle Savage, president of the club, presided as toastmistress.

After the dinner speeches were given, Mrs. Simmonson, New Trier house director, talked on closer relationship between the girls of the domestic science department and the home. Miss Van Horn, one of the teachers of the domestic department, gave the view of the department on the same subject. Mrs. William Miller of Glencoe, gave the mothers' view on the same subject.

DRAMA LEAGUE OF U. S. TO MEET IN EVANSTON

The Drama League of America will this year hold its annual Drama League Institute at the School of Speech of Northwestern university during a period of three weeks, June 22 to July 11. Prominent speakers, who will discuss the drama and its development in the United States will also lecture before summer school classes of the university's School of Speech. Meanwhile Dean Ralph Dennis of the speech school has engaged various leading teachers of speech and dramatic characterization to pilot his summer school students.

On the list are Lee Emerson Bassett, B. A., associate professor of English at Leland Stanford university; E. C. Buehler, professor of public speaking, Washburn college, Topeka, Kansas; James Church for several years with Otis Skinner as actor and stage manager; C. C. Cunningham, professor of public speaking, North Carolina State college, Raleigh; J. S. Gaylord, of McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago; Mildred Harter, head of auditorium work in the Froebel school, Gary, Ind.; Katherine Wisner McCluskey, of the School of Allied Arts, Phoenix, Ariz.; Nadine Shepardson, head of department of speech, Bradley Institute, Peoria, Ill.

Among the notables on the faculty are Alexander Dean, expert on the Little Theatre and the neighborhood playhouse and director of the North Shore Theatre Guild, and Prof. Harold A. Ehrensperger, formerly national executive secretary of the Drama League of America, now at Garrett Biblical Institute.

The monthly tea given by the English Speaking union takes place this afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock at the Chicago Woman's club. Cyril Maude will give a short address.
